The Tide

Greetings fair? one, we really had our problems this year didn't we? But I'm sure they'll all work out just fine. Keep 'em rolling

Lots of Luck!

Dear Elsie,
Its been lots of fun in advanced, she from one bad girl to another, I want to wish you loads of success.

Myra

To Elsie - Hope we're in the same HD gym class next semester. It really was a blast playing ring with you!

Love Casey

Dear Elsie,
Good luck in the future! Also (although) good luck with the [redacted] boys.

Cynthia Lee

Good luck and best wishes in the future

John Beatty.

Dear Elsie, I hope that you have many years of fun, Phyllis Tenny (Your Gym chum)

To Elsie,
A swell gal and good friend!
Lots of Luck!!
Love,
Gus

Dear Elsie,
At least, you never gave me the run-around like some of the Thumper girls did. John had a lot of fun though.
Puddles of purple passion,
Ken

Dear Elsie
Lots of luck from one of the nicest girls I know
Lots of fun while it lasted

LET UNITY RISE

Through blinding tears of eras gone
And prayers for the future wherein lies hope,
Through mem'ries of ages past and dimmed
And everyday troubles with which we cope,
We've learned that unity means success,
Yet we're apart with egos high;
We do for ourselves what we think best
With selfish hearts until we die.

The world has lost its glorious design;
'Tis but a mass of dirt and sod;
The human throng has lost its will
To build, to live, to worship God,
And threatened by the settling mist
That's hovering o'er our troubled land,
We live, we drift, we are apart,
Results of union's broken strand.

Yes, all seems lost - - - yet all is not!
We are a race 'till the last bomb falls!
We are a people 'till all life ends;
But we're not ONE . . . our greed appals!
'Tis not too late for reformation
To end this wearied, selfish strain;
Let us recall that when we're ONE
That golden hue unites the chain.

Our world will rise from amidst the ashes;
Our temples will resound in prayer;
Our deeds will be harmonious;
Our standards will be true and fair;
Throughout our many weary toils,
The Heavens will acclaim our cries;
Concord on Earth will be attained!
This is our world . . . LET UNITY RISE!

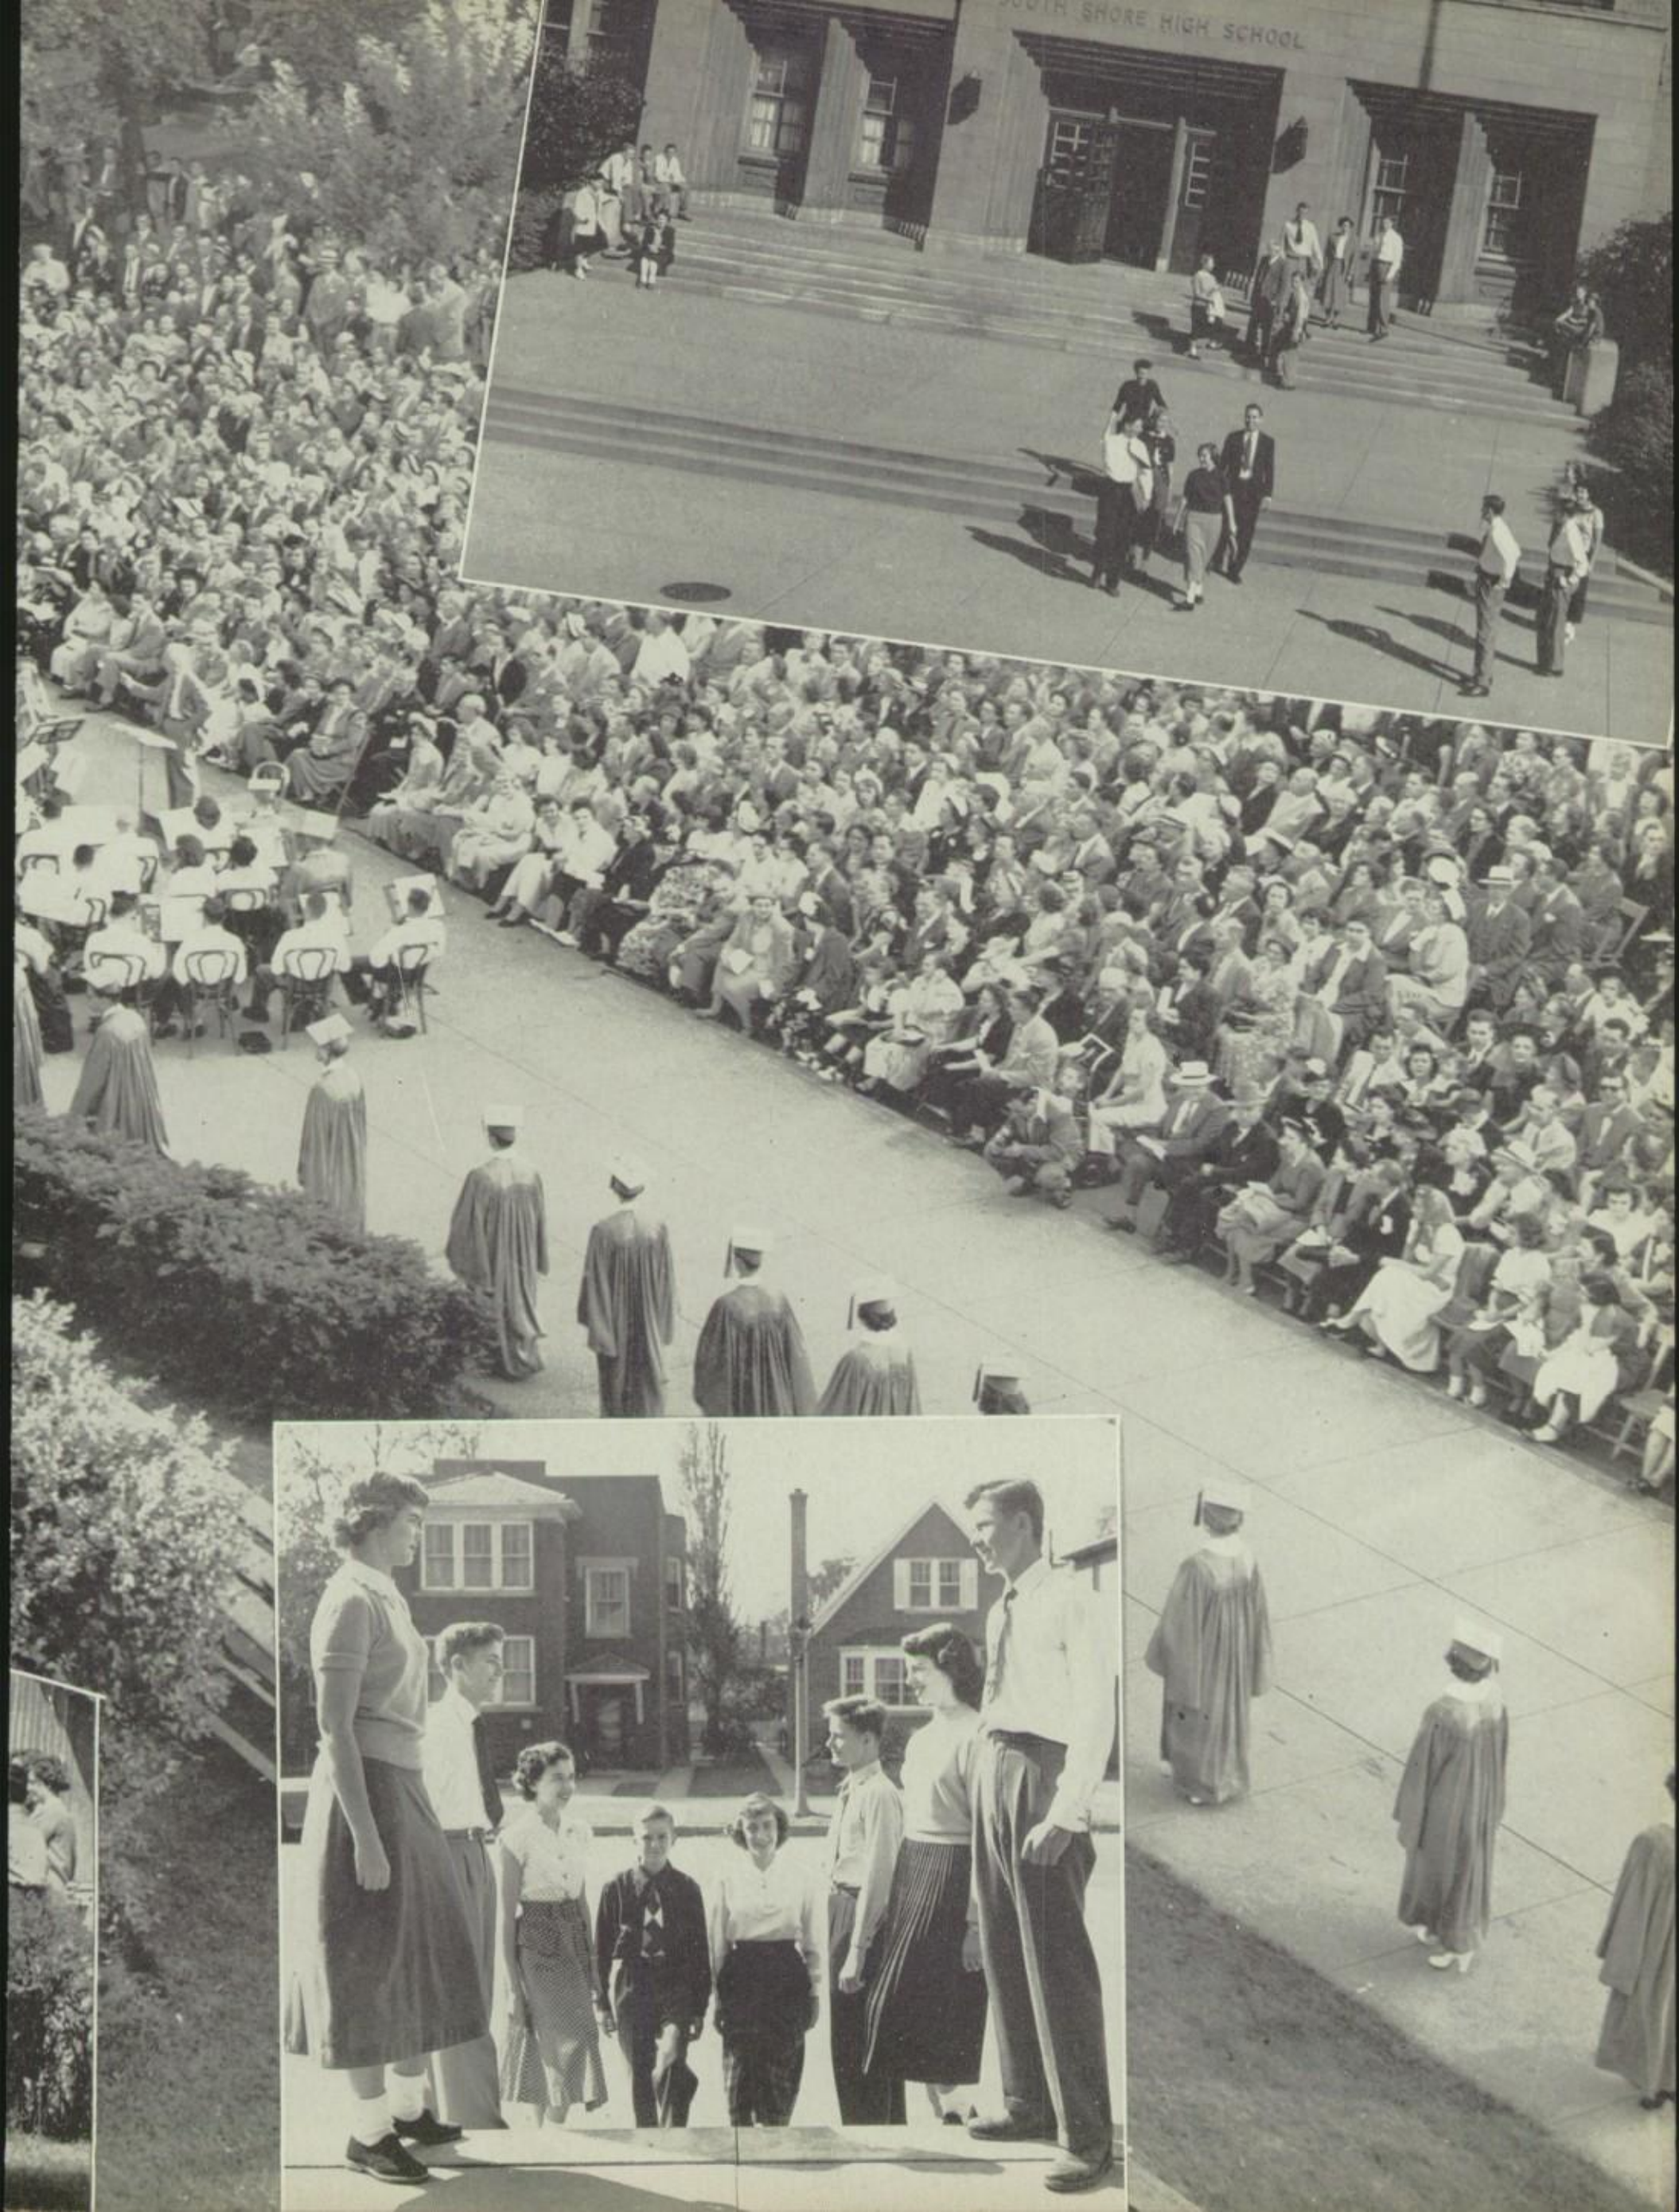
"United We Stand"

The school is the center of the community, and every child a precious tie that links each home to that center. Within that school are freshmen, sophomores, juniors, seniors, closely bound as classmates on their separate levels, but united, all, in acquiring the tools for better living. With them in that community are teachers and parents, joined in a common hope and endeavor. And within that center, which is South Shore, the steady increase of knowledge and quickened sympathies extend the ever-widening horizons to include the nation and the world of which it is a part.

"Yet all experience is an arch where thro'
Gleams that untraveled world whose margin fades
Forever and forever when I move."



SOUTH SHORE HIGH SCHOOL

We Serve Our School and Our Community

BELOW:

Upper: Miss Cardosi makes out a treasury receipt for Alan Gross, while Barbara Cain helps her by counting money.

Center left: Stuart Linkemer admires the television set which Jerry Goldman won for the school in an oratorical contest.

Center right: Donna Davis, Donna Hodnik, and Judy Erickson serve as aides in the main office.

Lower: Muriel Fine, from the Public Speaking class, makes an appreciation talk to English classes gathered in the Social Room to see Raoul Dufy's original painting, "Landscape," lent by the Art Institute.

PICTURED ON OPPOSITE PAGE:

Upper: Responsibilities are cheerfully carried by our teen-agers. Jackie Buchsbaum waves goodbye to baby brother and sister left in the care of Rita Hogg.

Lower left: How would the community eat without South Shore boys to deliver the groceries? Bud Carlson is seen at the open door of the Polansky home.

Lower right: A future citizen gets his start in community life. Bob Malkus concocts a "Klawans Special" for Joel Sadoff, Alice Mandel, and Anita Robin.

"To serve thy generation, this thy fate,
'Written in water,' swiftly fades thy name,
But he who loves his kind does, first and late,
A work too great for fame."

We Serve Our Country

Upper: Sally Greenberg and John Barker explain that savings bonds are a good investment.

Lower left: Bob Erzinger encourages his mother and Mr. and Mrs. Hans Adler to vote in the 1950 election.

Lower right: Bill Evans registers for the draft with Mr. Lewis.

"To hold together is to continue strong."

We Serve The World

"The world stands out on either side
No wider than the heart is wide,
About the world is stretched the sky
No higher than the soul is high."

Upper: Faith Rose and June Forde pack a box to be sent overseas by the South Shore Junior Red Cross.

Lower: Peggy Ball from Japan and Kathleen James from Alaska receive a friendly welcome from Patti McCarthy.

"Sail On, O Union, Strong and Great"

"Our hearts, our hopes, are all with thee;
Our hearts, our hopes, our prayers, our tears,
Our faith triumphant o'er our fears,
Are all with thee—are all with thee."

We Meet and

Walk Through Life

Together

"Life is to be fortified by many friendships;
To love, and to be loved, is the greatest happiness of existence."

"Unite and Guide"

"United we stand" is surely the guide for our principal, Dr. Isabel Magan. Hers is the wide vision that sees each individual in his relationship to the school, and the school in its relationship to each individual.

In this school community of students, faculty, parents, neighbors, there is not one who is unimportant as a co-worker in or for South Shore. Ever she seeks and welcomes the counsels of others. Her office door stands open, and most humble of students finds her easy of access. Her many conferences, her frequent visits to classrooms, her unceasing efforts to improve conditions make manifest her one aim, to create at South Shore a place where teachers and students can learn.

Right—Marcia Kubey, art student, shows Dr. Magan one of her prize winning pictures.

"Be Ye All of One Mind"

Clarence F. Fossier, assistant principal

Guidance with a steady hand characterizes Mr. Fossier as assistant principal. His duties include directing the programing and registration for classes, general disciplining of the student body, and assuming responsibility during the absence of the principal. He is especially interested in the athletic program and is seen at almost all sporting events. Having been here since the school opened, Mr. Fossier has enjoyed an active part in the development of South Shore.

"Up in the Morning, Out on the Job"

Mrs. Rosemary Krautlein

Miss Berdine Cardosi

Mrs. Kathryn Kreuz

The steady click-clack of typewriters beats out the rhythm of the office theme song. Here, in the heart of South Shore, the day's activities seem to have no end. However, in the midst of letters, reports, and files, each clerk is quick and ready to turn to the assistance of student, teacher, or visitor, who comes with problems, great and small. Certainly the clerks are gracious and invaluable in their united endeavor to advance South Shore.

South Shore Faculty

Row one—Miss Marie Albright, Science; Mr. Clarence Applegran, Boys' Physical Education; Mrs. Esther Arthur, Commercial; Mr. Oran Artman, History; Miss Jennie Austin, English; Miss Eleanor Bisbee, History.

Row two—Mrs. Harriet Blair, Mathematics; Miss Dorothy Bock, Mathematics; Miss Mary Brock, Science; Mr. John Carroll, Latin; Mrs. Marjorie Coleman, Science; Miss Margaret Compher, Commercial.

Row four—Miss Grace Frederick, History; Miss Lucybell Gardner, English; Miss Mary Gavin, English; Miss Gwendolyn Giltner, Spanish; Miss Marie Graff, Mathematics; Miss Nelle Groh, English.

Students and Teachers Work Together

Upper left—Mrs. Davison patiently helps Louis Tishler to decide what college he will attend.

Upper right—Fletcher Carroll, elevator pass in hand, begs Miss Gardner to allow him to ride.

Lower right—Coach Applegran gives emergency treatment to Jim Nathenson for a mosquito bite.

"Strength is in Union"

Row one—Miss Hazel Hansen, Commercial; Miss Laura Hauta, Spanish; Mr. Kenneth Iversen, Music; Miss Isabel Kincheloe, English; Mr. William Kooistra, Mathematics; Miss Dorothy Lee, Science.

Row two—Mr. Philip Lewis, Industrial Arts; Miss Amy Mackie, English; Mrs. Iola Majors, History; Miss Frederika Marston, Girls' Physical Education; Mrs. Hazel McNamara, English; Mr. Oscar Mongerson, Science.

Row four—Mr. Maurice Williams, Boys' Physical Education; Mr. Ralph Wiltshire, Boys' Physical Education; Mrs. Sybel Wiltshire, Home Economics; Mrs. Ruth Dawson, Librarian; Mrs. Martha O'Kane, Assistant Librarian; Mr. Robert Burchett, Engineer.

Together in Work and Play

Upper—Unaware of Mr. Crane's watchful eyes, Charles Bournstine and Sandy Glassman continue their preparation of chlorine gas.

Upper center—Miss Brock and her biology class find "It's in the bag."

Lower center—Mrs. Witting applies rouge to the lips of Alan "Pretty Boy" Engle, as Lady Ver de Vere in Wild Nell.

Lower left—Mr. Lewis uses the microphone to reach his class.

Lower right—Mrs. Strawn confers with Gayety Armstrong and Gwen Appel in regard to the testing program.

Upper—February class officers consist of Stuart Linkemer, vice-president; Gloria Barnett, treasurer; Myra Gray, secretary; Robert Erzinger, president.

Lower—June class officers include Patsy Hilton, secretary; June Baughman, treasurer; Robert Echt, vice-president; James Hoggatt, president.

Senior Class Officers

The unifying link of the senior class, working with students and teachers alike, is the senior class officer group. Chosen by ballot to lead their classmates through their last year of high school, a year they'll never forget, the officers are responsible for the smooth functioning of activities. With the help of their committees they plan and carry out the social and serious activities of senior days,—the Prom, Class Day, Commencement.

Their classmates will remember them always as outstanding leaders and just plain "pals." South Shore will remember them for their fine personalities and for jobs well done.

Mr. Alekna's 4B Division

Mr. Alekna's division is proud to claim Bernard Schencker, president of the 4B class, as being among their membership. Fred Friedlander, Bernard Schencker, and Robbé Friedman have received scholarship awards, while Laurel Cohn has in her possession a double award for both scholarship and service. At one time Mr. Alekna's division had the largest number of students on the honor roll.

Upper—Graeme Berlyn goes into action during a panel discussion.

Lower left:

Mrs. Majors' 4B Division

Upper—Carol La Favor and Gloria Barnett are pleased with their purchases in the sales class demonstration, but Jerry Facktor must be persuaded by Sally McNulty that his bowling ball will fit into the bag he is considering.

Mrs. Majors' division has never failed to do its part in any school enterprise. It is usually 100% in S.S.L. and P.T.A. memberships and in Shore Line subscriptions. Sometimes as many as ten or twelve make the honor roll.

Betty Evans, who was voted the best in proficiency, takes division honors in athletics. Sally Jensen was chosen as the girl with the best posture in the school.

The division is proud of its high standing in scholarship.

Center:

Row one—Marianne Casey, Shirley Layman, Pat Laughlin.

Row two—Betty Evans, Nancy Edelstein, Carol Larrison, Sally Jensen, Lois Kornafel.

Row three—Bruce Aufderhaar, Bruce Larson, Sumpad Kanlian.

Lower:

Row one—Joan Phillips, Eileen Maloney.

Row two—Mary Lou Marrs, Lillian Powers, Juanita Shiparski, Barbara Midkiff.

Row three—Ronald Nylen, Bert Nelson, Eugene Orton.

Mr. O'Connor's 4B Division

Officers of Mr. O'Connor's division are Bill Weiner, president; Roy Schnackenberg, vice-president; Dorothy Dale, treasurer; and Joan Gold, secretary. Scholarship award winners are Barbara Greenberg and Joan Gold. Jerry Kalish is a service award winner. Possessors of double awards are Kayleen Rosenston and Susan Schmalhausen. Many members of this division are talented and all have a deep sense of loyalty to South Shore.

Upper:

Row one—Violet Spear, Kayleen Rosenston, Margaret Lewis, Phyllis Mintz.

Row two—Rita McLeod, Phyllis Levey, Arlene Schiff, Magdaline Lamperis, Gloria Spear.

Row three—Richard Schwan, Bob Nielsen, John Stevens, Roy Schnackenberg.

Lower left:

Row one—Audrey Kabaker, Dorothy Dale, Marcia Kubey, Barbara Greenberg.

Row two—Sally Blades, Dolores Ericsson, Mary Ann Hickman, Joan Gold.

Row three—Tom Huck, Jerry Kalish, Bob Ashen, John Barker, Andrew Anderson.

Lower right—"Bill, the cop," makes friends with two freshmen.

Mrs. Blair's 3A Division

Taking a lead in school activities, the Juniors of Mrs. Blair's division have maintained an outstanding record of scholarship and service. Their co-operation in the paper drives (they were among the highest in contributions) and their support of other school projects have made them known as one of the finest groups in the school. This division is a good example of scholastic and athletic achievement.

Upper—Jacqueline Brolin, John Watson, Bill Warsaw, and Peggy Richards try out the new recorder purchased for the English department.

Center:

Row one—David Birkner, Ernest Gershon, Bob Graff.

Row two—Dorna MacIntyre, Arlene Imbrowicz, Judy Ansick, Norma Linkow, Joan Klinowski.

Row three—Don Yovich, Claude Netherton, Jack Nitzkin, Franklin Smith, Howard Simon, Bill Olsen.

Miss Graff's 3A Division

Miss Graff's Junior division has a fine record of cooperation and participation in school activities. It is 100% in Shore Line subscriptions and 100% in G.A.A. memberships. Among the activities the group take part in are swimming, football, basketball, and Girls' Chorus.

Upper:

Row one—Kay Conklin, Betty Boyd, Helen Kelly, Rebecca Horberg.

Row two—Carolyn Jessop, Norma Hawkinson, Jo Ann Goldman, Jeannetta Girault.

Row three—Louis Keith, John Hoyle, Harold Billings, Seymour Byman, Robert Carlson, Jerry Goldman, Kent Beauchamp.

Lower left:

Row one—Patricia Wicinski, Carol Unrau, Sonya Meyer.

Row two—Geraldine Malloy, Geraldine Warner, Diane Kulwin, Joanne Matthews.

Row three—Eugene Pope, Joan Sukowicz, Jim Lundergan, Doris Lee.

Lower right—Larry Hochman, Beverly Holton, Dorna MacIntyre, and Norman Carlson arrange the Shore Line display of historical papers in the show case.

Miss Hansen's 3A Division

Two members of Miss Hansen's division who attained the all S' Honor Roll are Carole Sanger and Marcia Frank. Tom Connors and Ed Yalowitz are two letter men of the group. Captain of the division intramural basketball team is Roger Diehl. A combination of brains and brawn makes this a "terrific" division.

Upper:

Row one—Cathie King, Louise Elley, Cathie Cabon.

Row two—Gerry Broad, Muriel Fine, Leta Blumberg, Marcia Frank.

Row three—Jerry Goldman, Freddy Hollman, Ken Haberman, Larry Hochman, Roger Diehl, Gershon Hammer.

Lower:

Row one—Carol Watson, Yvonne Seadin, Gail Leinweber, Lois Lichter, Isabel Smith.

Row two—Carole Sanger, Barbara Puchalski, Idele Margolis, Anita Zoller.

Center—The Careers class take a test to determine whether or not they are suited for art work.

Miss Hauta's 3A Division

The Tarzans who made Miss Hauta's division first in the paper drive are Bill Maddock, Bob Sundstrom, Ed Yalowitz, and Tom Walsh, aided by "Tarzanas" Elaine Hirsch and Luella Humphreys.

The Einsteins who won the Scholarship Awards in this division are Vic Levadi and Ed Yalowitz.

The Rembrandt of the Rumpus Room (and Miss Lipsky's pride and joy) is Bob Sundstrom.

The whole group is proud to be Miss Hauta's chief interest in South Shore.

Upper:

Row one—Jim Letsos, Racquel Hurwich, Jim Giltmier.

Row two—Elaine Hirsch, Beth Greenberg, Helen Himmel, Frances Levine, Barbara Hoenle.

Row three—Charles Hagan, Allen Caplan, Robert Logler, John Eure, Victor Levadi, John Higginson, Joe Kinson.

Row four—Jim Epstein, Ronald Grossman.

Lower left—The high-pressure salesman, a future "Fuller brush man," Andrew Anderson, confronts the victim, Jo Anne Adamson.

Lower right:

Row one—Lynn Wernecke, Bette Ann Spiro, Beth Werner, Jean Pankey.

Row two—Joyce Price, Rosalie Wolf, Ethel Olson, June Newberg, Lois Steiner, Jean Powell.

Row three—Thomas Savings, Harry Oppenheimer, John Tontsch, Ed Yalowitz, Tom Walsh.

Row four—Bill Maddock, Bob Sundstrom.

Miss McCue's 3A Division

Miss McCue's division is among those which are 100% in Shore Line subscriptions. Students who usually are on the honor roll are Ann Glansberg, Ethel Kyros, Barbara Swick, Myrna Isenstein, and Shona Lederman. A recent poll showed Lyman Goss to be the division athlete; Vivian McAtee, division artist; Bob Crowley, division linguist; Bob McCauley, division comic; and Carol Condee, division musician.

Upper—Matching faces and names, Mary Lou Marrs, John White, Marianne Casey, James Lundergan, and Barbara Shaw wish we had had fewer Presidents.

Center:

Row one—Phyllis Kravey, Myrna Isenstein, Ethel Kyros.

Row two—Carol Condee, Joyce Bechtel, Shona Lederman, Joy Lieberman.

Row three—Milton Levinberg, John Boyd, Jack Linton, Jack Jones, Lyman Goss, Robert Crowley, Bill Bird.

Lower:

Row one—Barbara Swick, Maribel Osajda, Estelle Pawlicki.

Row two—Carol Smith, Geraldine Pagorek, Alma Slecka, Madonna North.

Row three—Bill Renshaw, Mary Ann Pawlak, Beatrice Piotrowski, Jane Sarlas, John White.

Row four—Norbert Maryanski, Bob McCauley.

Miss H. Rice's 3A Division

The talents of this junior division seem to be in the musical field. James Casey and Jane Lagen, president of the Junior Mixed Chorus and Junior Girls' Chorus respectively, are members of this group. In the sports field, Jackie and Gerry Barzinski were voted the school's best volleyball players. Gerry Barzinski and Charles Bernstene have earned their letters for sports. The division has always rated high in any collection or membership drive.

Upper—Miss Compher's typing class, illustrating perfect form, work away at their day's assignment.

Center:

Row one—Jackie Barzinski, Gerry Barzinski, Jane Lagen, Mary-Rose Gleason, Shirley Dishon.

Row two—Dorothea Bloom, Barbara Freeman, June Crawford, Barbara Bergstrom.

Row three—Charles Bernstene, Edwin Ewry, Jim Casey, Woody Chilson.

Lower:

Row one—Joan Rutt, Earla Stevens, Barbara Mills.

Row two—Phyllis Stirling, Lois McKinney, Dolores Zappa, Sally McGillivray, Patricia Moore.

Row three—Logan Rozelle, Donald Rubin, Burton Stark, Donald Moss, Erwin Pollack, Michael Merriman, Davis Roeske.

Mrs. Swingle's 3A Division

Upper—No, it isn't a Martian! It's Patti McCarthy modeling the mask she created in her advanced art class.

Center:

Row one—Viva Johnson, Irene Krevitz, Marilyn Greenberg, Jackie Grupka.

Row two—Cecelia Murphy, Barbara Lewis, Jackie Buchsbaum, Rita Hogg.

Row three—Reese Jadwin, Burt Kushner, Stuart Harris, Ronald Demovsky, Paul Davis, Dick Barbel.

Lower:

Row one—Dolores Tyke, Patricia Wierzbicki, Dorothy Warner, Eleanor Orth.

Row two—Helen Wilson, Shirley Nelson, Patsy O'Brien, Ila Schlifka.

Row three—Mel Olshansky, Dick Werthamer, Richard Ward, Larry Williams.

Believe it or not, Dick Werthamer has maintained an all "S" average, thus leading Mrs. Swingle's division and tying with another student for first place in his class. Two vice-presidents in the group are Lynn Wilson and Rita Hogg of the Swim Club and Girls' Chorus respectively. Dick Barbel, Paul Davis, and Ronald Demovsky have won trophies in bowling. Jackie Buchsbaum has the longest list of activities, among them being secretary of the G.A.A., a Shore Line editor, accompanist for the Senior Girls' Chorus, and a Tide staff member.

Miss Albright's 3B Division

Upper—Estelle Pawlicki, Barbara Swick, and Pat Wierzbicki model the garments they made in the clothing class.

Center:

Row one—Angie Chiou, Aleda Peters, Louise Peterson, Rochelle Wilson.

Row two—Shirley Paulsen, Patricia Wamsley, Joan Sobel, Helen Lavin, Barbara Smith.

Row three—Russell Majors, Ernest Larranaga, Larry Rosenberg, Ronald Ringenberg, Stanley Paul .

Row four—Arthur Villasenor, Robert Reinert.

Lower:

Row one—Dori Appel, Lois Holt, Suzanne Clamage, Ruth Kopel.

Row two—Helen Hansen, Kathleen James, Eileen Hochberger, Marilyn Edwards.

Row three—Morris Belovicz, Bob Dill, Tom Glynn, Judy Brill, Janet Fulrath, Jan Casper, Bill Hunding.

Row four—Bill Carlson, Ronald Kaplan.

Miss Albright's division has participated wholeheartedly in all school projects. "One hundred percent" in P.T.A., S.S.L., and G.A.A. membership drives and in Shore Line subscriptions has been their byword. In the paper drive the division received an honorable mention.

The high scholarship record of the group is held by Ruth Kopel, who has made the all "S" honor roll consistently.

Mrs. Arthur's 3B Division

Upper:
Row one—Themis Soter, Lorna Schafer, Evelle Shkolnik, Janice McGregor.
Row two—Anita Robin, Vicki Rosenberg, Myra Rubenstein, Barbara Linton, Janet Wasson.
Row three—Robert Quinn, Robert Mitgang, Arthur Lurie, John Uffendell, Arthur Markuson, Al Meyers.
Row four—Warren Kneis, Walter Roney, David Pitzele.

Lower left:
Will the one who eats Patricia Powers's biscuits wear a smile as pleased as hers?

Lower right:
Row one—Leah Embree, Pat Cooke, Elsie Arnold.
Row two—Sedelle Kniznik, Janice Bond, Artemis Kanlian, Elaine Kornafel.
Row three—Charles Bennett, Henry Green, Martin Krasnitz, John Beatty, Robert Grindey.
Row four—Bill Johnson, Sanford Friduss, Leslie Johnson.

Scholastic and athletic achievements have been the goals of Mrs. Arthur's division. In their first year, the division team won the freshman intramural basketball tournament. Myra Rubenstein has been on the all "S" honor roll several times.

The division has attained 100% participation in school drives such as the Shore Line subscription campaign and P.T.A. membership drive.

Mr. Cervak's 3B Division

Upper—These students are engrossed in thoughtful study.

Center:

Row one—Janice Bullard, Joan Grabill.

Row two—Nancy Bond, Donna Davis, Diane Barker, Arlene Howson, Anne Harris.

Row three—Sandra Flax, John Klawans, Harriet Hyman, Olle Carlson, Dorothy Baker.

Lower:

Row one—Judy Parker, Alma Larson, Eunice Strauss.

Row two—Temma Rubenstein, Marilyn Williams, Nancy Regelbrugge.

Row three—Bob Spaulding, Dominic Kutka, Pete Stoneham, John Marlin.

Row four—Ronald Whitehouse, Irwin Schwartzberg.

Individual achievements run high in Mr. Cervak's division. In their various school activities these Juniors have made an exceptional record for themselves. The Tribune Silver Award was given to Sylvan Frazin for his R.O.T.C. service. A great number of students have taken part in other activities, both athletic and social.

The division as a whole placed second in the school paper drive. The co-operative spirit of the division is also shown by the fact that they took first place in the Thanksgiving Fund.

Miss Gardner's 3B Division

Upper:

Row one—Grace Berberian, Barbara Kotler, Patricia Dytkiewicz.

Row two—Helen Daleanes, Donna Holtom, Lenora Diamond, Betty Krashen.

Row three—Sheldon Getzug, David Mack, Leonard Evanson, Ralph Lindberg.

Row four—Bob Gerst, Mark Byquist.

Center:

Row one—Rennie Shellow, Louise Rosenthal.

Row two—Doris Smith, Sandra Pick, Shirley Stein, Constance Thome.

Row three—Adriene Reinschreiber, Alice Mandel, Barbara Mulvaney, Betty Regennitter.

Row four—Joel Wolff, Charles Whitebloom.

Lower—Margaret McConaghey and Bill Weiner renew their faith in union by reading Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

Working for the school as well as for themselves, the students of Miss Gardner's division have entered into many activities. Class government has been their special interest, and in that field Sheldon Getzug was elected president of the 2A Council.

Striving for a perfect record, the division has given full support to school campaigns. They have played their part in making the Shore Line, P.T.A., and Tide subscription drives successful.

Mrs. G. Rice's 3B Division

Upper:

Row one—Florence Strand, Sharon Pinch, Jean Muir, Doris Soderberg.

Row two—Gail Friedman, Veta Reizner, Catherine Varga, Elsie Wenzel.

Row three—Alan Schlegman, Elliott Stiegel, Dave Steeves, Don Keller, Elaine Katzman, Nancy Levato.

Lower left:

Row one—Carol Janisch, Lois Hirsch, Roberta Busch.

Row two—Audrey Gerke, Lorna Hamilton, Sue Glenn, Betty Hausman.

Row three—Elizabeth Gleason, Irene Frieder, Diane Gordon, Douglas Adams, Robert Goldberger.

Row four—Tom Carlton, Carl Demma, Charles Grunhard.

Lower right—Elizabeth Busschaert, Pat Krecicki, and Violet Berlin wait for the bell to ring.

The students of Mrs. G. Rice's division have worked hard to promote school activities. Among the outstanding members are Donald Keith, who received a letter for expert marksmanship in the R.O.T.C. rifle team, and Sue Glenn, who has been an officer of both the Pan American Club and the Safety Club.

The division has contributed willingly to school drives, maintaining over a 90% position.

South Shore's "Underworld"

Upper—Mrs. Fritts inspects the contents of the lunchroom ice box.

Upper center left—You see before you a daily visitor, rain or shine.

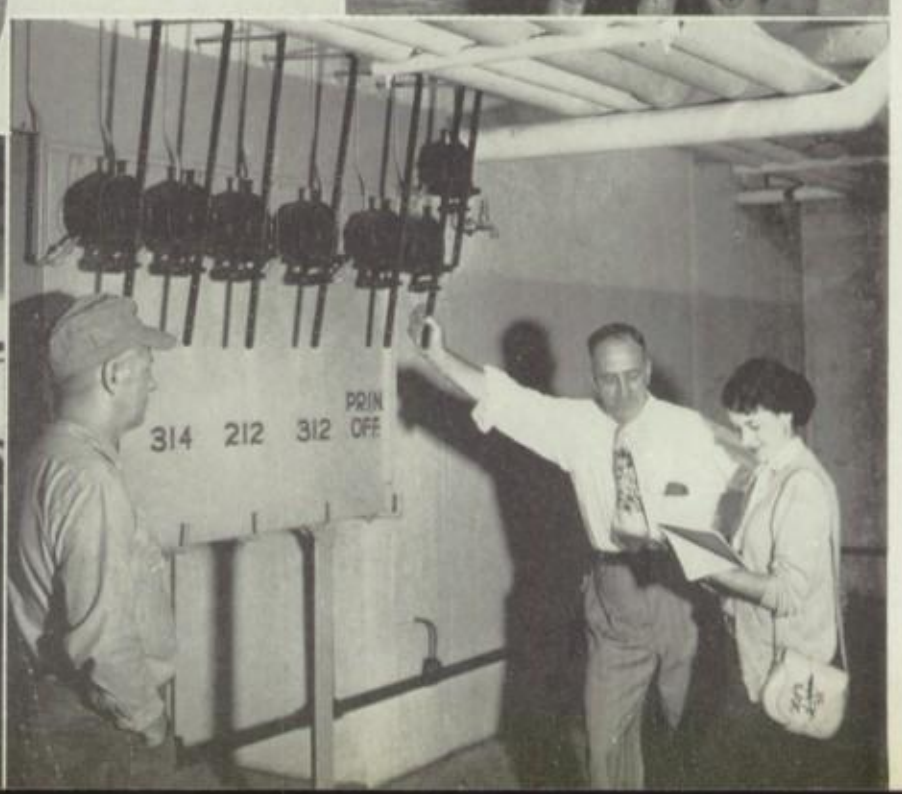
Lower right—Robbé Friedman tries to understand the complicated heating mechanism being explained by Mr. Robert Burchett, assisted by Mr. Jerry Mahoney.



Miss Cullen's 2A Division

Under the guidance of Miss Cullen, this division has had an active year. It attained a high standard in sports, clubs, and drives. Raymond Overholt and George Werner became managers of the frosh-soph football team. The most popular activity was in the music field, many students being in band and chorus.

Upper:

Row one—Betty McKey, Ruth Stumme, Sandra Sheinart, Sue Serafin.

Row three—Richard Linkemer, Rose Mary Thorsen, William Maloney, Ray Overholt, Merle Ring, Harold Wallis.

Row four—Henry Kleiman, George Werner, Dan McCarthy, Ed McNamara.

Center:

Row one—Carol Goss, Lois Goldstein.

Row two—Mary Ann De Lisi, Barbara Baugh, Joan Barker, Dorothy Anderson.

Row three—Marilyn Kenny, Donna Hodnik, Donald Gaan, Hazel Black.

Row four—Frank Caraher, David Brown.

Lower—Sophomores sit out their lunch period on the steps.

Miss Curtis's 2A Division

Here is a division with athletes, comedians, and scholars. David Becker and Alan Beel are Guppy letter men; Ken Sone, a baseball letter man. Betty Jo Greenawalt won various events in the G.A.A. swim meet, and Diane Glass placed first in the G.A.A. Tennis Tournament.

Leading in scholarship are Gail Bauer, Ed Filmanowicz, David Kroll, Evelyn Fink, and Iris Levey. The choruses claim Pat Gately, Lou Weyn, Dolores Roberts, and Elaine Frank. Division artist, Sue Boyle, designed the cover for the 1951 Tide.

Upper:

Row one—Iris Levy, Lorraine Reinglass, Eileen Simon, Dolores Roberts.

Row two—Gwen Olson, Cynthia Olson, Donna Hartman, Katherine Prescott.

Row three—Mike Stavish, Kenny Sone, Del Lesage, Wayne Mackey, Lou Weyn.

Row four—Bob Hill, Bruce Mac Neish, David Kroll, Kenneth Kahler.

Row three—Martin Cohen, Larry Greenberg, Charlene Hoffman, Joan Leasure, Janis Kornafel, Jerry La Maskin, Dave Gordy.

Row four—Joel Kaplan, Chuck Damore, Joe La Guess.

Lower:

Row one—Theresa Oesch, Lois Shutter.

Row two—Florence Steinberg, Ann Weston, Jean Zimmerman, Jean Schulties.

Row three—Allen Nelson, Joel Miller, Tom Witzman, Charles Weise, John Woodward.

Row four—Roy Prosterman, Larry Sager.

Mr. Kooistra's 2A Division

This division, occupying one end of the library, is in the center of activities. Musical talent finds expression in Charlene Bennett, accompanist of the Junior Mixed Chorus. Other chorus members are Don Miller, Norma Sullivan, Shirley Pieczynski, and Emlyn Mayer. Bob Kukla and Bob Stuart are letter men in athletics. Alan Gross, business manager of the Shore Line, won a double service-scholarship award from the S.S.L.

Upper:

Row one—Joan Johnson, Geraldine Heiferman.

Row two—Carol Granholm, Nancee Farber, Joanne Hayes, Charlene Bennett.

Row three—Allan Gross, Patricia Krecicki, Elaine Angarola, Shirley Jacobson.

Row four—Carl Johnson, Jay Kopstein.

Lower left—They lead the fire drill.

Lower right:

Row two—Norma Sullivan, Suzanne McAndrew, Adrienne Siegel, Emlyn Mayer.

Row three—Jerry Skovie, Donell Miller, Richard Tapley, Robert Stuart.

Row four—William Ramsay, Charles Lev.

Miss Lee's 2A Division

Upper left and lower right—Carolyn Powell, William Crane, and Maxine Goldman make a crowd, while James Blisk studies alone.

Upper right:

Row one—Elaine Rosch, Lesley Sigale, Carole Wilson, Aurelia Specyal.
Row two—Marion Ruddy, Marion O'Neil, Barbara Mokrzycki, Ann Purcell.
Row three—Norman Roden, Nate Yellen, Tom McMahon, Stanley Nasarzewski, Richard Meyers, Guthrie Riley, George Uyttebroeck.
Row four—James Miller, Joe Hoffman, Charles Shannon, L. J. Meyers, Tom Neary.

Lower left:

Row one—Janet Howard, Audrey Lindquist, Barbara Cassel, Elayne Caro.
Row two—Dorothy Cichocki, Lola Einbund, Margie Feder, Betty Anderson.
Row three—Edward Keeley, Joe Gray, Marc McFadden, Jerry Addis.
Row four—Henry Karel, Norman Kozak, Jim McKernin.

Miss Lee's division is an average American high school group. The students give their wholehearted support to all the undertakings of their school.

Exceptional division members include Stanley Naserzewski, outstanding sophomore cadet of the R.O.T.C.; Charles Shannon, president of the Pan-American Club; Lola Einbund, treasurer of Philanthea; and Barbara Cassel, who leads the division scholastically.

Mr. Mongerson's 2A Division

Every student in Mr. Mongerson's division has participated in extra curricular activities. Ed Sheridan is their star in basketball, and John Pilon is their Guppy. The Stage Crew finds Glenn Harris and Tom Ferry always on hand. Marilyn Moore serves in the Nautilae, and Nancy Rich, Shirley Stan, Joan Piowaty, and Alan Engle are in the chorus.

Upper—Mr. Williams, Richard Linkemer, and Louis Sandefur watch at the sidelines during one of the football games of the season.

Center:

Row two—Shirley Johnson, Suzanne Economos, Lois Blum, Ellen Bonifield.
Row three—James Alt, Gene Harris, Carl Jorgensen, Dan Crane.
Row four—Ben Butler, Paul Lieberman, Fred Good.

The sophomores in Miss Spencer's division are active in many organizations. Shirley Johnson is on the G.A.A. Board. Lois Blum represents the room in the S.S.L. The group's having won the intramural basketball championship as 1B's inspired six boys to become frosh-soph footballers. Ellen Bonifield, Jo Ann Butler, and Suzanne Economos were active workers in the Junior Red Cross.

Miss Swanson's 2A Division

One hundred percent in P.T.A., G.A.A., S.S.L., and Shore Line subscriptions has been the record of Miss Swanson's 2A division. The members of this group have shown a lively interest in the welfare of their school and are represented in almost every extra-curricular activity.

Upper—The saying, "Out goes the old; in comes the new," has no appeal for Pat Totten, who still prefers drawing the musical staff by hand, the old way.

Center:

Row one—Elizabeth Wierzbicki, Mary Lester.

Row two—Arlene Nowak, Shirley Sobucki, Marlene Schmidt, Barbara Szymborski.

Row three—Walter Lencke, Henry Taylor, Donald Szafranski, Le Roy Tews, Bob Lissit.

Row two—Julie Anne Unger, Carol Rosenthal, Carol Mulhall, Janice Winsler.

Row three—Paul Winer, James McGee, Larry Madderom, Anthony Loftus, Eileen Panozzo, Milton Strauss.

Row four—Leonard Lickerman, Buddy Roseman.

Mrs. Feldman's 1A Division

Upper:

Row one—Joan Konovsky, Marcia Laks, Susan New.

Row two—Patricia Stephen, Ruth Weckinger, Jackie Littsky, Joan Lalin.

Row three—Bill McFarland, Arnold Markl, Suzanne Wall, Bob Rubin, Sally Jo Knowles.

Row four—Pat Williamson, Jack Mitchell, Joe Rothberg.

Center:

Row one—Reynita Buster, Bette Diman, Charlotte Gilchrist.

Row two—Sharyon Banks, Lois Freeman, Lois Frenzel, Gloria Bianchi.

Row three—Louis Edelstein, Benjamin Katz, Susanna Juve, Richard Barta, Norman Friedland, Marshall Hirsch, Jerry Grunwald.

Row four—John Fulton, Bill Crane, Bob Chapter, Larry Du Bois.

Lower—Teachers are as anxious as students while they watch the Tars in action.

Mrs. Feldman's division has maintained 100% membership in the G.A.A. and the P.T.A., aside from being active in many activities. Jackie Littsky is the glamor girl of the group, having been the freshman queen contestant. Larry Dubois has already become a Shore Line photographer, while William Crane and Arnold Markl have had perfect attendance.

Miss Franklin's 1A Division

Upper left:

Row one—Roslyn Brown, Beverly Becich, Marlene Eve, Kay Cohen.

Row two—Joanne Barrowman, Patricia Figiel, Barbara Allen, Dianne Berger.

Row three—Kenneth Goldberg, Aaron Bram, Glessner Davis, Joe Appel, Allen Born, Norman Baskes, Ronald Anderson, Peter Abrams.

Row four—Gilbert Biddle, Ed Crowell, Ed Adelman.

Upper right:

Row one—Joan Wolstenholme, Beverly Hillman, Cordelia Wagner, Myrna Solomon.

Row two—June Johnson, Mary Thompson, Audrey Jurgilas, Geraldine Ward.

Row three—Joe Kater, James Reddel, John Mizanin, James Taylor, Sandra Sterling, Leslea Wenk.

Row four—Gregory Shepis, Larry Kilcran, Robert Greitzer, Richard Kraft.

Lower—Constance and Geraldine Owen prove that two apples plus two pears equal one fruit salad.

Miss Franklin's division has been prominent in first year activities, participating in the bowling league, on swimming teams, and as Shore Line journalists and movie operators. Students selected from this room to take part in the Christmas program were Joan Wolstenholme, Peter Abrams, Barbara Allen, James Reddel, and Jim Taylor.

Joe Kater and Cordelia Wagner have been on the all "S" honor roll.

Miss Giltner's 1A Division

The students of Miss Giltner's division have been active in school organizations. Eight students belong to the various choruses. Dan Trower and Charles Blake are both on the swim teams, and Dennis Netherton is a member of the rifle team. Doris Wainwright has already earned 250 points toward her G.A.A. letter.

Upper—Barbara Horsley, Richard Becker, and Nancy Johnson team up on homework.

Center:

Row one—Sandra Bernstein, Joline Cobb, Lorraine Heiferman.

Row two—Josephine Duggan, Diane Anderson, Barbara Earth, Carol Johnson.

Row three—Donald Brownell, Charles Blake, Hydrich Gardner, Fred Bushey, David Crane.

Row four—George Berlin, Steve Gray, Maurice Cain.

Lower:

Row one—Dona Masters, Connie Owen, Gerry Owen, Barbara Meyer.

Row two—Betty Lee, Judith Nelson, Doris Wainwright, Rita Kotowski, Mary Trevelyan.

Row three—Daniel Trower, Tom Szafranski, Aline Kahn, Ross Todd, Paula Price.

Row four—John Wychelewski, John Nicholson, Arthur Wielkopolan, Dennis Netherton.

Miss Groh's 1A Division

Nothing can be wrong with a division that subscribes 100% to the G.A.A. and S.S.L. That's exactly what Miss Groh's division achieved. To add to the glory, Berenice Fisher, Nancy Feingold, and Esther Harrison have represented the division on the all "S" honor roll, and Verna Godman has been as honor student constantly. With such fine scholarship and participation in school activities, this division is bound to "go places."

Upper:
Row one—Joan Harris, Mary Hoeft, Sandra Carr, Janice Davenport.
Row two—Berenice Fisher, Nancy Feingold, Jean Anderson, Patsy Hatch.
Row three—Esther Harrison, Mary Hamscher, Verna Godman, Joyce Brunner, John Calvin, Arthur Durham, Fletcher Carroll, Curtis Coutts.
Row four—Thad Czarnecki, Charles Gabriel, Marshall Gonsky.

Lower left—Sidney Brottman is infuriated by that old familiar sign.

Lower right:
Row one—Carol York, Barbara Rappaport, Nancy Slou, Fern Volk.
Row two—Dorothy Kaveshan, Anita Machusek, Marlene Przybyla, Barbara Turley, Sonia Klein.
Row three—Harry Jachim, Willy Schwebke, Henry Lowenthal, Paula Wasserman, Konnie Sorenson.
Row four—Egon Kahn, Martin Kutka, Albert Lorenc, Bob O'Connell.

Mr. Iversen's 1B Division

Mr. Iversen's division not only maintains active participation in school activities but has also achieved much in other fields. Rose Mary Villas, Beverly Briley, and Donna Tagmeyer each was a recipient of an art scholarship to the Art Institute of Chicago. Several students are members of the 1B Council, and Barbara Stein is the vice-president of the class. Joyce Cummings excels in sports. Jerry Barancik has been on the honor roll consistently, while Don Zehme and LeRoy Brown are both members of the Stamp Club.

Upper:

Row one—Sandra Ruggeri, Carol Van Scoy, Lorraine Perruso, Carolyn Vandersee, Barbara Wheaton.

Row two—Joan Weber, Jonna Lee Marr, Nancy Parsons, Lois Marrow, Joan Pagenkopf.

Row three—Gordon Stone, Sid Travis, Bill Summerfield, Alan Saperston, Paul Newburger, Carolyn Powell.

Row four—Richard Pareira, Jerry Thurman, Ronald Ratcliff, Steve Schuham.

Lower:

Row one—Babs Horsley, Angie Allen, Jacqueline Ach, Alice Andrews.

Row two—Maxine Goldman, Sandra Johnston, Margaret LeBombarb, Marlene Heinemann.

Row three—Michael Lyons, Will Brown, Charles Bradford, Beverly Eglin, Mary Brown, Ann Finger, Judith Johnson, Paul Horwitz.

Row four—Sidney Brottman, James Blisk, Robert Hechler.

Lower—When Mr. Lewis speaks, all hands stop.

Mr. McLean's 1A Division

Mr. McLean's division has been active in school organizations and high in scholarship. Herbert Binswanger has been on the all "S" honor roll, and he and Roger Stevens are members of the swim team. Richard Rose, although only a freshman, is a member of the Tide staff.

Upper:

Row one—Patricia Fitzgerald, Kathleen Fitzgerald, Bonnie Ray Minor.

Row two—Joyce Averbuch, Patricia Liston, Juanita Brown, Harriet Fink.

Row three—Harold Berg, David Marschke, David Cohen, George Guest, Eugene Barboro, Allen Irwin, Bob Cahill.

Row four—William Kruse, Herbert Binswanger, Charles Leber.

Center:

Row one—Jean Turner, Rhea Shifrin, Carol Sax.

Row two—Kathleen Sims, Virginia Newton, Reneta Slusarski, Barbara Wolfson, Geraldine Rosch.

Row three—Richard Rose, Nick Pitsoulakis, Roger Stevens, John McKernin, Bonnie Thome.

Lower—Charles Bradford goes home now!

Miss Von Bremer's 1A Division

Upper—Experienced R.O.T.C. boys give a rifle demonstration for the incoming freshmen.

Center:

Row one—Mary Morrison, Leonarda Mounteney, Diane Zussman, Barbara Rodin.
Row two—Nancy Michau, Lucille Youngren, Dorothy Malloy, Mary Montgomery, Eileen Norwood.
Row three—Charles Player, Tom Martin, Howard Menaker, Jim Zuckerman, Verna McEndree, Pamela Stephens.
Row four—Larry Shapiro, Paul Rauscher, Clarence Martin, Bob Morris, Stephen Sadlek.

Lower:

Row one—Verna Mack Inday, Joanne Fredrickson, Ada Brown, Gunther Koffinke.
Row two—Shirley Koshork, Barbara Bender, Barbara Cohen, Barbara Lekki.
Row three—Roy Bryant, Ronald Izydorek, Theodore Mallires, Jerry Kaplan, John Hunelly, Dennis Hartman, Daniel Kaplan, Stanley Blaszczyk.
Row four—Frank Hailand, Jules Laser, Lawrence Gruszkowski.

Miss Von Bremer's division is one of the few to have a division organization. Officers of the group are Bob Morris, president; Ted Mallires, vice-president; Barbara Bender, secretary; and Eileen Norwood, treasurer. The division was one of the leaders in the Thanksgiving Fund and subscribed 100% to the G.A.A.

Mrs. Lassen's 1B Division

Upper—Seven fifty-five to eight o'clock is the rush hour at South Shore!

Center:

Row one—Barbara Schwartz, Fleurette Wriska, La Verne Wriska, Shirley Payne.

Row two—Barbara Sullivan, Maryanthe Panutsos, Donna Tagmeyer, Barbara Stein.

Row three—Donald Schabel, Ned Ribback, Marvin Pales, Rose Villas, Fred Vargo, Bruce Sutton.

Row four—Richard Scheffler, David Patchen, Donald Zehme.

Lower:

Row one—Alice Gager, Beverly Briley, Marilyn Barzynski.

Row two—Iris Feldman, Judy Leeds, Helen Lenczycki, Sandra Israel, Joyce Cummings.

Row three—Le Roy Brown, Calvin Feldman, Michael Lee, Mac Jolly, Bob Berghoff.

Row four—Jerry Barancik, Sidney Booth, Richard Klein, Michael Heyman.

This group boasts eight honor students, including a member of the all "S" honor roll. In the division are found the secretary of the 1B Council, the freshmen ping-pong champions, a member of the Court of Honor at the Spring Carnival, and a school record holder in the girls' proficiency contest.

Mrs. McNamara's 1B Division

Upper left—We're waitin' on you, honey chile!

Upper right:

Row one—Lois Wittbecker, Jean Miller, Lois Rosenberg, Patricia Rose.

Row two—Helen Reader, Natalie Stern, Ann Sapstein, Pat Smith, Barbara Peulecke.

Row three—George Sundstrom, Kay Potter, Jay Precourt, Roy Nicholson.

Row four—Larry Mintz, Joel Spungin, Bob Hirsch, Bob Packer.

Lower:

Row one—Myrna Golden, Ila Kramer, Penny Chapter.

Row two—Jo Ann Evander, Jackie Lurie, Marilyn Larson, Ina Lev.

Row four—Harry Kentopian, Dean Hanson, Richard Barker.

"The best freshman division in the school," say the members of 216, Mrs. McNamara's room. This group was 100% in both the G.A.A. and S.S.L. They have eight students on the honor roll. For the Carnival this room sold sixty-three books of tickets. The boys won second place in the baseball tournament.

Mrs. Neal's 1B Division

This freshman division has made a good start in the first year. Students have enjoyed supporting school affairs and have urged their team on to win first place in the boys' 1B basketball league. They are proud of Jim Carlson, who was elected president of the 1B Council. With this beginning, these 1B's hope to keep their division a leading one until they graduate.

Upper:

Row one—Lorene Petersen, Charleen Sill, Judith Odell.

Row two—Margaret Matten, Donna Moen, Penny Weaver, Shirley Sucherman, Bernice Zimmer.

Row three—Harold Tickell, Arthur Hatfield, Jim Ranfranz, Lois Slavik, George Scott, Mary Stewart.

Row four—Bill Shropshire, Gerald Levy, Gene Poole, Tom Thornton, Norton Wasserman.

Center:

Row one—Elaine Giltmier, Helen Aldridge, Leona Harth.

Row two—Yolanda Dodge, Margaret Forney, Paula Brennwasser, Barbara Conrad.

Row three—David Rosenthal, Bruce Mitchell, Fred Freeark, Edward Fineberg, Leonard Kaplan, Vernon Craig, Donald Broder, David Hargrove.

Row four—Sheldon Lichtenstein, Phil Barnett, Earl Hagberg, Jim Carlson.

Lower—Benny Katz, star member of the cooking class, is baffled by the strange objects and procedures around him.

Mrs. Witting's 1B Division

As 1B's this division is proud indeed to have 100% membership in the P.T.A., G.A.A., and S.S.L. Gaylord Wine is the S.S.L. representative and Toby Gothelf and G.A.A. representative.

For Carnival Night the group sold over 40 tickets. Their candidate for Carnival Queen, Lillian Smith, was one of the finalists.

As for sports, they are not tops, but they did their best.

Left—Typical freshie, Louis Edelstein consults his program to see if the room number corresponds to that on his card.

Upper right:

Row one—Lois Wasserman, Adrienne Simon, Donna Vanderkloot.

Row two—Wendy Wolper, Lillian Smith, Marlene Zisook, Charlene Sternquist.

Row three—Ira Satyr, Donald Will, Ken Shelhamer, Norval Walker.

Lower right:

Row one—Toby Gothelf, Jacqueline Dwyer, Beverly Howson, Sharlene Hamer.

Row two—Lillian Gross, Pat Nichelson, Vivian Lyon, Myrna Levy, Barbara Beville.

Row three—Stewart Gordon, Peter Dieter, Thomas Ahern, Beverly Erenberg, Judith Hale, Paul Greenwalt, Jesse Iverson.

Row four—Irwin Bevacqua, Jimmy Gottreich, Donald Davidson, Walter Johnston.

Fun and Friction in the Classroom

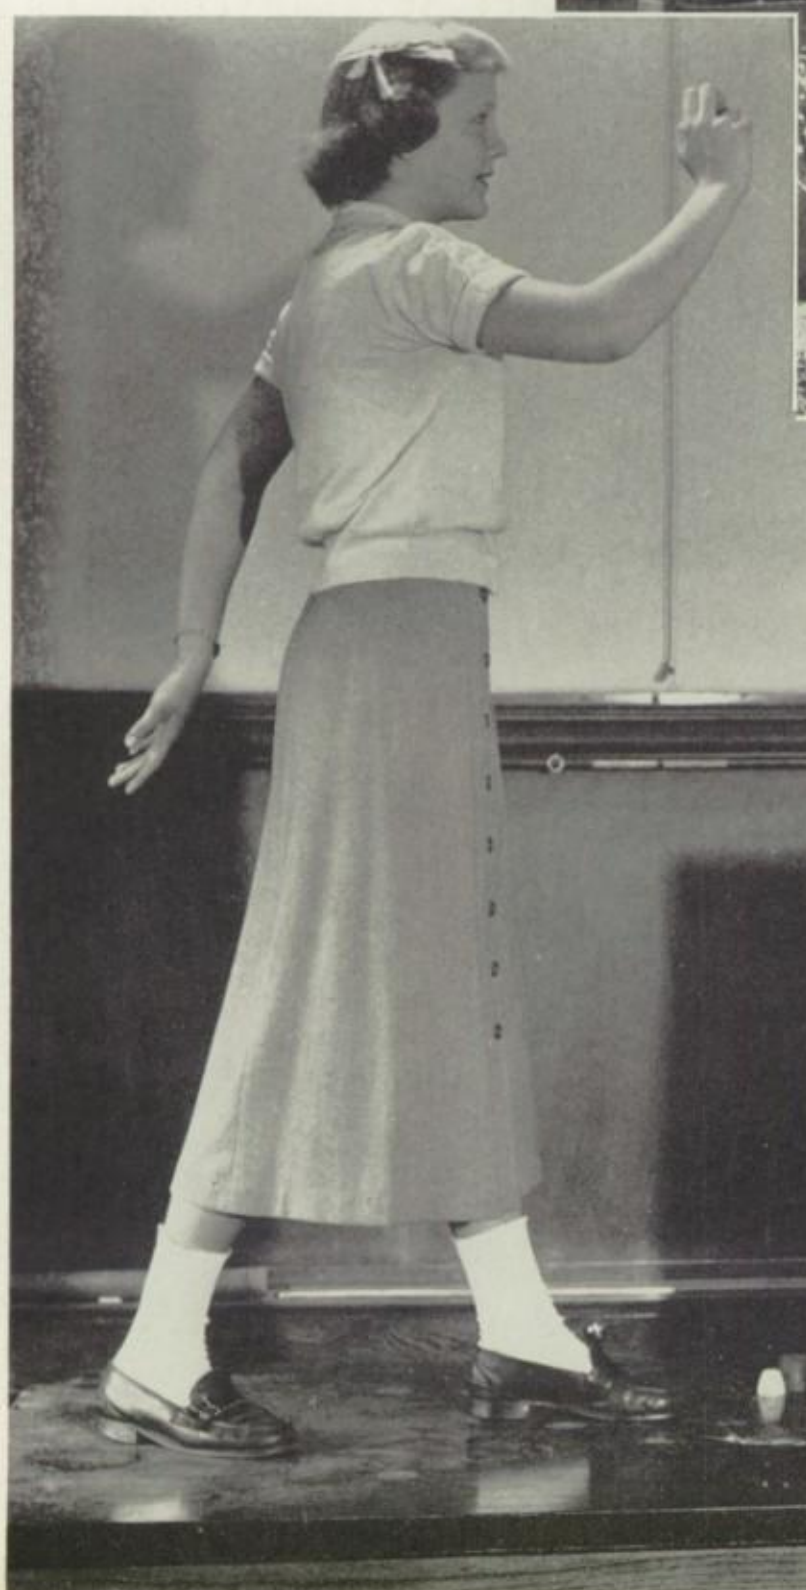
Upper—Sonia Meyer tries to unravel Milton Levinberg from the ribbon he is "expertly" putting in her typewriter.

Lower—Betty Krashen, Louise Rosenthal, Sheldon Getzug, and Irene Frieder admire the artistic ability of their Latin teacher, Mr. Carroll.

Outdoors and In

Upper—"This is the best of study halls," think Richard Becker and Nancy Johnson.

Lower—Ruth "Healthy" Carlson imitates the health poster, while Bob Morris prepares a list of requirements for healthful living.



We Meet and

Form Our Plans

Together

"United thoughts and counsels;
Equal hope and hazard in the glorious enterprise."

Student Service League

The South Shore Student Service League is the school's largest organization, the one all students are encouraged to join. It is primarily dedicated to the task of co-ordinating the school's various service groups. It also serves as a student council.

Since the league meetings are attended by delegates from each of the school divisions, the league can find out the needs and opinions of the student body and help solve school problems by enlisting the aid of all students.

Upper—Some fine program is being planned by the S.S.L. Assembly Committee, consisting of Betty Beneker, Larrie Brett, Jerome Zelden, Roger Baskes, Jerry Goldman.

Center—S.S.L. officers learn the history of South Shore from the club scrap book. Studying it are Jack Duncan, president; Carol LaFavor, vice-president; Mary Connors, secretary; Cynthia Frye, treasurer.

Lower—Members of the S.S.L. Organization Committee record and file service points. Working at files are Diane Brodine and Larrie Brett; at the table are Robbé Friedman, Ann Brown, and Ruth Kopel.

"Strike Up the Band"

Upper—"And the horns, they blaze away," with Frank Wong, Charles Shannon, Bob McLeod, Jerry Gordon, Dale Pearman, and Ronald Christianson at the controls.

Center—"Me and My Shadow" is played by the clarinet section of the band, consisting of Lois Holt, Carol Condee, Phyllis Coleman, Ann Watson, Milton Levinberg, and Dick Tapley.

Lower—"The drums go bang, and the cymbals clang" when Anita Gonsky, Bill Robson, Stanley Paul, Frances Smet, and Sheldon Getzug get together.

The South Shore Band, under the direction of Mr. Iversen, lends its support to many of the school functions. It cheers us on at pep rallies and football games, plays at P.T.A. programs, and finally at the end of each semester leads the graduates as they walk down the aisle.

There is no prerequisite for beginning band members except a love of music. This activity not only offers a student a chance to participate in many activities, but also leads to an appreciation for good music which will last all his life.

Senior Mixed Chorus

Upper—Herb Thurman, Jim Lundergan, Bill Hall, and Bob Nielson make up South Shore's great barber shop quartet, being led by Donna Wetherbee.

Center—Officers of the Senior Mixed Chorus consist of Charles Erickson, President; Carol Shelby, vice-president; Betty Schultz, secretary; Diana Locke and Larrie Brett, accompanists.

Lower—Members take time from singing to admire the paintings Miss Ryan's advanced art class made for the new room of the Mixed Chorus.

When the Senior Mixed Chorus raise their voices in song, they give everyone hearing them a thrill of pride and joy. Mrs. Frances Witting is the leader of this group. All enjoy their songs on many occasions: in the Christmas program; for the P.T.A. meetings; and at commencement. Theirs has truly been a successful year.

Music Guides Their Way

Upper—In the first row are Barbara Modrowski, Judy Carnow, and Louise Krakow; in the second row are Ronald Schafer, Ronald Angarola, and Faith Rose, all of whom take a last look at their music before they leave for an assembly program.

Lower left—Ronald Andretic, Janet Herr, Ken Blizzard, Susan Joor, Janice Feldkamp, and James Pacini show their newly earned choral letters.

Lower right—Marilyn Levine, Irene Stewart, Beverly Holton, Joyce Endler, and Diane Goodman are among the first to leave for the performance.

Only the Senior Mixed Chorus have the privilege of wearing the blue and green robes. Another honor they may achieve is that of earning letters, awarded in their 4A semester, providing they have had at least two years in chorus work. The culmination of their school career is the privilege of singing at their commencement program.

Time Out for the Chorus

In order to become a member of the Senior Mixed Chorus, a student must have a full music credit and must have been in the Junior Chorus for two or more semesters.

A wire recorder and a scrap book will preserve for future students the many accomplishments of this group.

Upper—Judy Crane, and Bill Evans are amazed at the sour note that Roberta and Sally Block just gave forth.

Center—Officers of the Junior Mixed Chorus are Charlene Bennett, accompanist; Ken Brown, treasurer; Jim Casey, president; Janet Wasson, secretary; Barbara Clark, librarian; Audrey Kabaker, accompanist.

Lower—Diane Torsberg, Marilyn Nord, and Allen Gomoll listen intently to Jackie Brolin playing the piano.

Junior Mixed Chorus

Those who belong to the Junior Mixed Chorus, which is under the direction of Mrs. Frances Witting, learn about the fundamentals of choral singing. The technique of individual performance before an audience is also stressed.

Students in the chorus may earn credit for the second semester of music. However, those who have completed a year of music may work for service points. After two or more semesters a qualified student may become eligible for Senior Mixed Chorus.

The Junior Mixed Chorus gains valuable instruction in the art of choral singing, which is applied to both the classical and the popular songs. The combined effort of the group and the leader is directed toward perfecting choral presentations.

Upper—Mary Stuart, Georgianne Larson, Louis Weyne, Larry Sager, and Brina Jaffee insist on singing in spite of the discomfort of the Junior Mixed Chorus.

Middle—"My hero!" sighs "Miss" Alan Engle to rescuer Richard Pingry, while other characters in Wild Nell, Barbara Mulvaney, Marilyn Edwards, and Eileen Hochberger, stand by.

Lower—Buttons and Bows makes a fascinating study for Bruce Aufderhaar, Victor Levadi, Barbara Lewis, Judy Ansick, and Ben Butler.

Senior Girls' Chorus

Upper right—A soft glow lights the faces of Jean Pankey, Barbara Fagan, Luella Humphreys, Lynn Wilson, and Joan Phillips as they sing by candlelight.

Left—Janet Harper "Washes that man right out of her hair" at the Fathers' Night program.

Lower right—Barbara Shaw, president; Rita Hogg, vice-president; Carol LaFavor, treasurer; and Janet Harper, secretary, Senior Girls' Chorus officers, enjoy themselves at tea.

"All we think of every day is music, music, music." These are familiar words that fill the air around Room 121 during fifth period.

The Senior Girls' Chorus has been busy since September singing at many school programs. The orientation ceremony for in-coming freshies and the assemblies are only two events graced by these girls.

"Sweet and Lovely"

Upper—Sally McNulty, Joyce Hinsberger, Patsy Hilton, Judy Levy, and Jane Sarlas, Senior Girls' Chorus members, take time out for talking.

Center—Education has its glamor, think Mary Connors, Jackie Southman, Kathie King, Alma Drake, Lois Kornafel, and Barbara Midkiff.

Lower—Joyce Slou performs one of her famous dances for Fathers' Night.

The Senior Girls' Chorus collected first and second prizes for costumes and third prize for dancing at the annual G.A.A. Square Dance. One of the highlights of the year was the Circus in 121 on Carnival Night. May ninth marked the tenth anniversary of the Mother-Daughter tea. Thus the girls close another successful year, bidding farewell to the graduates and looking forward to the next year of "Music, music, music."

Junior Girls' Chorus

Upper—This is a bird's eye view of Barbara Brown, Joan Darrah, Delores Roberts, Janet Howard, and Virginia Daniels, South Shore's nightingales.

Center—"The meeting will come to order,—or thereabouts." Ambitious officers are Donna Holtom, treasurer; Pat O'Brien, vice-president; Jane Lagen, president; and Sonia Meyers, secretary.

Lower—Members of the Girls' Chorus demonstrate "Happy Talk."

The Junior Girls' Chorus, under the sponsorship of Miss Agatha Long, has given pleasure to the student body, parents, and faculty of South Shore for many years. The numerous functions include the Mother and Daughter Tea, participation in Fathers' Night, caroling, singing at P.T.A. meetings, and, as an appropriate conclusion for the year, singing at the June graduation.

The girls consider Miss Long not only a capable teacher, but also a loyal and understanding friend.

The Angels Sing

One of the high spots during the school year is the caroling at Yuletide, performed by the Chorus. This event is looked forward to, not only by the entire student body, but also by the Chorus members themselves. Strains of "White Christmas," "Adeste Fidelis," "Oh Little Town of Bethlehem," "Silent Night," and "Our Lady of Fatima" float through the air to every nook and cranny of the building as the Chorus sings, strolling up and down the halls.

Upper—"Music, Maestro, please!" plead Emlyn Mayer, Barbara Smith, Janet Fulrath, and Joan Darrah to Norma Hawkinson.

Center—Our neighbors enjoy the door-to-door caroling by Beverly Beer, Shirley Johnson, Barbara Bergstrom, Marilyn Moore, and Barbara Hoenle of the Junior Girls' Chorus.

Lower—"Music is the speech of angels," demonstrate Phyllis Kravey, Ruth Stumme, Janis Kornafel, Barbara Baugh, and Carol Adams.

Library Club

Upper—Are Phyllis Levey, Sherry Leopold, Ann Hickman, Beth Busschaert, and Barbara Lewis involved in global strategy?

Lower left—Officers check over their schedule for the semester. Busy at work are Ann Brown, president; Beverly Holton, vice-president; Mary Connors, secretary; and Kayleen Rosenston, treasurer.

Lower right—Included in this totem pole of knowledge are Louise Rosenthal, Carol Adams, Ruth Carlson, Laurel Cohn, and Joanne Dahl.

When a student accompanies a visitor on a tour of South Shore, there is always a note of pride in his voice when he announces, "This is the library."

This room, filled with the best books, is neat, orderly, and attractive. When one is not able to find a book, there is always a member of the club on hand to perform this and innumerable other services.

The group elected the following officers for the Spring semester: Barbara Smith, president; Ann Hickman, vice-president; Magdaline Lamperis, secretary; and Beverly Holton, treasurer. The Club is directed by Mrs. Dawson.

Books Are Their Friends

Upper—Row one: Elsie Wenzel, Donna Polansky, Violet McAtee. Row two: Sharon Pinch, Jo Ann Yellowlees. These librarians find "Told by an Idiot" more entrancing than "Li'l Abner."

Lower left—Maggie Lamperis, Barbara Greenberg, Beatrice Johnson, Gwen Helaszek, and Helen Deleanes, of the Library Club, mix browsing and working.

Lower right—Each member has her special duties, find Barbara Cassel, Claire Cross, Cynthia Frye, Barbara Smith, and Donna Hartman.

Duties of librarians are extensive. One of the most important tasks is the checking in and out of books borrowed by students. Members are in charge of distributing study slips, first to the students and then to the various study hall teachers.

They keep the books in an orderly arrangement on the shelves and file magazines. They are also in charge of sending those slips of paper that both you and your wallet hope never to see, the overdue notices.

The chief social event of the year is the Book Week Tea, given in honor of the faculty.

The Shore Line

Editors come and go, and with the passing of each semester, what began years before as newspaper patterns are now Shore Line traditions to which each department of the literary and business staffs conform.

Make-up night is always a busy time with paste pot, scissors, and ruler giving the impression of an engineer's desk.

But the final product is the Shore Line, one of the pulse beats of the school, the famous "eight pages" that are guaranteed to bring quiet to any division twice a month.

Upper left—Planning a new issue are Shore Line editors Laurel Cohn, news editor; Dean Berry, sports editor; Dorothy Drew, editor-in-chief; Charlotte Rogatz, feature editor.

Center—Reporters Joanne Buchsbaum and Marianne Casey listen from behind the sofa while Patti McCarthy, Robert Mitgang, and Jane Lagen gab.

Lower right—Shore Line make-up night, in full swing, finds Donna Wetherbee, Elizabeth Brooks, Ann Friedman, and Marianne Adler busy with their copy.

"With Words We Govern Men"

Upper—"Funny, funny, funny what money can do." "Well, it can pay for the Shore Line," says Louis Tishler as he hands his division subscriptions over to Financiers Laurel Cohn, Melvin Garbow, and Beverly Holten. In the background Ed Berman catches up on the latest issue.

Center—Shore Line subscriptions are checked by Al Gross, Florence Udelson, and Faith Rose, and totaled by Bob Malkus, to Mr. Kooistra's satisfaction.

Lower—Catherine Varga's completing a poster is used by Don Keith as a camera study.

This has been an exceptionally good year for the Shore Line. A capable business staff achieved a subscription rate of close to 90%, a high rate for any school paper. Ed Berman won merit in securing advertisements. He constantly tried to expand the advertising to the proportion expected in school papers and even exceeded it in some issues.

Each semester had hard-working, capable staffs, with Dorothy Drew as editor in the fall and Ann Friedman in the spring.

The Shore Line regularly attains first class honors in the National Scholastic Press Association.

The Tide

Three staffs are kept busy throughout the year getting The Tide ready to issue the last week in June. Miss Mackie is the director of the Picture Staff, the Literary Staff is headed by Miss Austin, and the Business Staff has Mrs. Rice to oversee subscriptions and finances. Room 204, the "little office," hums with activity and, at times, with frantic speed as the three staffs join efforts to complete their labor of devotion.

Upper—Bruce Aufderhaar, Barbara Lewis, Joyce Endler, Dean Berry, and Lauren Pachman, of the Literary Staff, press their manuscripts upon the harried typist, Myra Gray.

Center—Literary Staff members, Gwen Appel, Juanita Aslanian, Jerry Goldman, Robbé Friedman, and Nancy Lefkowitz, look over past Tides to find inspiration for the new.

Lower—Lois Brooks, of the Business Staff, works at the file cabinet while other members, Richard Werthamer and Irene Frieder, help the manager, Phyllis Coleman, with Tide accounts.

Three Staffs with One Goal

You have probably seen a short, dark-haired girl running through the halls during eighth and ninth periods with a preoccupied expression on her face. If you are in doubt as to either her identity or her mission, the fact that she is Marianne Adler, editor-in-chief of The Tide, should dispel all those doubts.

Other Tide workers with service records of two years and over are Harris Goldstein, Bob Malkus, Faith Rose, and Robbé Friedman. Second semester additions to the Literary Staff were Eileen Maloney and Barbara Freeman. Bernard Schencker was athletic editor.

If through the efforts of the staffs and their sponsors you are pleased with The Tide, they will feel well-rewarded.

Upper—The Picture Staff prepares the schedule for a day of photography. Faith Rose, Marianne Adler, Patti McCarthy, Robert Malkus, and Harris Goldstein are concentrating on the job.

Center—Members of the Tide Picture Staff, Ronald Schafer, Hemmy Klawans, Kayleen Rosenston, Laurel Cohn, and Donna Polansky, "jump with joy" as they receive their shooting schedules.

Lower—Ann Glansberg and Lois Hirsch turn in their Tide subscription money to Mrs. Rice.

Parlez-vous Francais?

Upper—Kay Conklin, Jan Casper, Elayne Caro, Norma Linkow, and Jeannetta Girault hold a discussion in French.

Center—United in their desire to visit France, the officers of the French Club study travel folders. Paula Wasserman is vice-president; Fran Levine, secretary-treasurer; Patricia Hilton, president; Katherine Prescott, program director; Cynthia Frye.

Lower—Joyce Overbach, Julie Unger, Carol Rosenthal, and Marcia Laks, of the French Club, gather around the piano to sing French songs.

A better knowledge of France is brought to South Shore through the French Club, sponsored by Miss Franklin. The club's aim is to promote an interest in French customs and culture. Talks given by members bring to life the beauty of France, its architecture, styles, and art. Members enjoy singing French folk songs, playing French games, and participating in plays which they sometimes write.

The club is open to those students who have had one or more semesters of French and who are interested in a further study of France.

Veni, Vidi, Vici!

The Latin Club, sponsored by Mr. Carroll, studies the customs and culture of ancient Rome. Membership is limited to Latin students, and those who participate in its activities feel greater familiarity with the Roman era.

Activities of the club mainly consist of dramatizing events and literature, making drawings and models of implements and buildings, doing research, and reporting by committees.

"OUT OF THIS WORLD" = EX ORBE (TERRARUM) = EXORBITANT
BLITZKREIG = BELLUM RAPIDUM
CALVIN = CALVUS = BALD
CECIL = CAECUS = BLIND

Upper—"I have come to bury Caesar," orates Larry "Marc Anthony" Hochman over the corpse of Norman "Caesar" Carlson, mourned by Roman matrons, Cynthia Frye, Henriette Klawans, Faith Rose, and Dorna MacIntyre.

Center—Beverly Holton, Janice Nagel, Margaret Lewis, Ethel Kyros, and Jean Pankey, Latin students, exercise their brains on word study problems.

Lower—In a Roman schoolroom scene, devised by the Latin Club, Marianne Casey and Patti McCarthy use the formula for finding the hypotenuse; Bill Elias and Elizabeth Brooks receive Latin scrolls; and Marianne Adler demonstrates the use of weight measurements.

Pan-American Club

Upper—Mary Ysla and Terrie Gerard demonstrate a Spanish dance for Beatrice Johnson and Charles Shannon.

Lower left—"Hasta Manana!" sigh these weary sightseers on their return from a Mexican shop. They are Ronald Kaplan, Emlyn Mayer, Margaret Melberg, Ruth Kopel, and Sue Glenn.

Lower right—Joan Sukowicz, Judy Ansick, Alice Lister, and Robert Crowley examine a genuine Mexican serape.

Under the guidance of "Senorita" Frances Curtis, officers and members of the Pan-American Club enjoy the atmosphere of our Latin American neighbors. The object of this group is to familiarize members with characteristics and culture of our neighbors to the South.

Officers are Charles Shannon, president; Sue Glenn, vice-president; Margaret Melberg, treasurer; and Judy Ansick, secretary.

This year the Club was host at the convention of the Illinois Federation of Pan-American Leagues. They also provided an assembly program during Brotherhood Week. An enjoyable excursion included a meal at a Mexican restaurant and a Spanish movie.

Philanthea Serves the School

Upper—Marilyn Edwards and Diane Kulwin repot plants for the beautiful display in the room of Miss Brock, the club sponsor.

Lower left—Claudette St. Pierre, Jane Lagen, and Marilyn Edwards use team work in the complicated art of murdering a weed.

Lower right—Philanthea officers give regular care to the plants in the Social Room. They are Ann Brown, president; Laurel Cohn, secretary; Muriel Fine, vice-president; Kayleen Rosenston, treasurer.

Nautilae

The Nautilae, who act as South Shore's hostesses, are sponsored by Miss Mulloy and Mrs. Wiltshire, successors of Mrs. Stapleton.

The chief function of the club is to make both new students and visitors feel at home when they come to South Shore. Each year members hold a New Girls' Tea. They also take care of wraps at Social Center dances and usher at the National Honor Society ceremony. The Nautilae fulfill their duties gracefully and well, for "Service" is their motto.

Upper—Nautilae girls select their costumes for the square dance contest. Left to right are Janice Fulrath, Claudette St. Pierre, Maurine Sward, Virginia Daniel, and Cynthia Frye.

Center—Nautilae officers include Susan Joor, recording secretary; Jean Schroeder, corresponding secretary; Diane Torsberg, vice-president; Faith Rose, president; Judith Crane, treasurer.

Lower—Sally Jensen, Vivian McAtee, Marianne Casey, and Shirley Layman make up the Nautilae scrap book, while Diana Wood types.

Willing Hearts and Busy Hands

Upper—Barbara Shaw, Patricia Hilton, Pamela Porter, Marianne Adler, and Beatrice Johnson address post cards to alumni for the Christmas Ball.

Center—No, these girls are not cutting paper dolls; they are making tags for tag day. Left to right are Dorothy Dale, Mary Lou Marrs, Viva Johnson, Ethel Kyros, and Violet McAtee.

Lower—Joanne Buchsbaum, Zoe Collins, Rita Hogg, Betty Schultz, and Patti McCarthy prepare for the Christmas Ball.

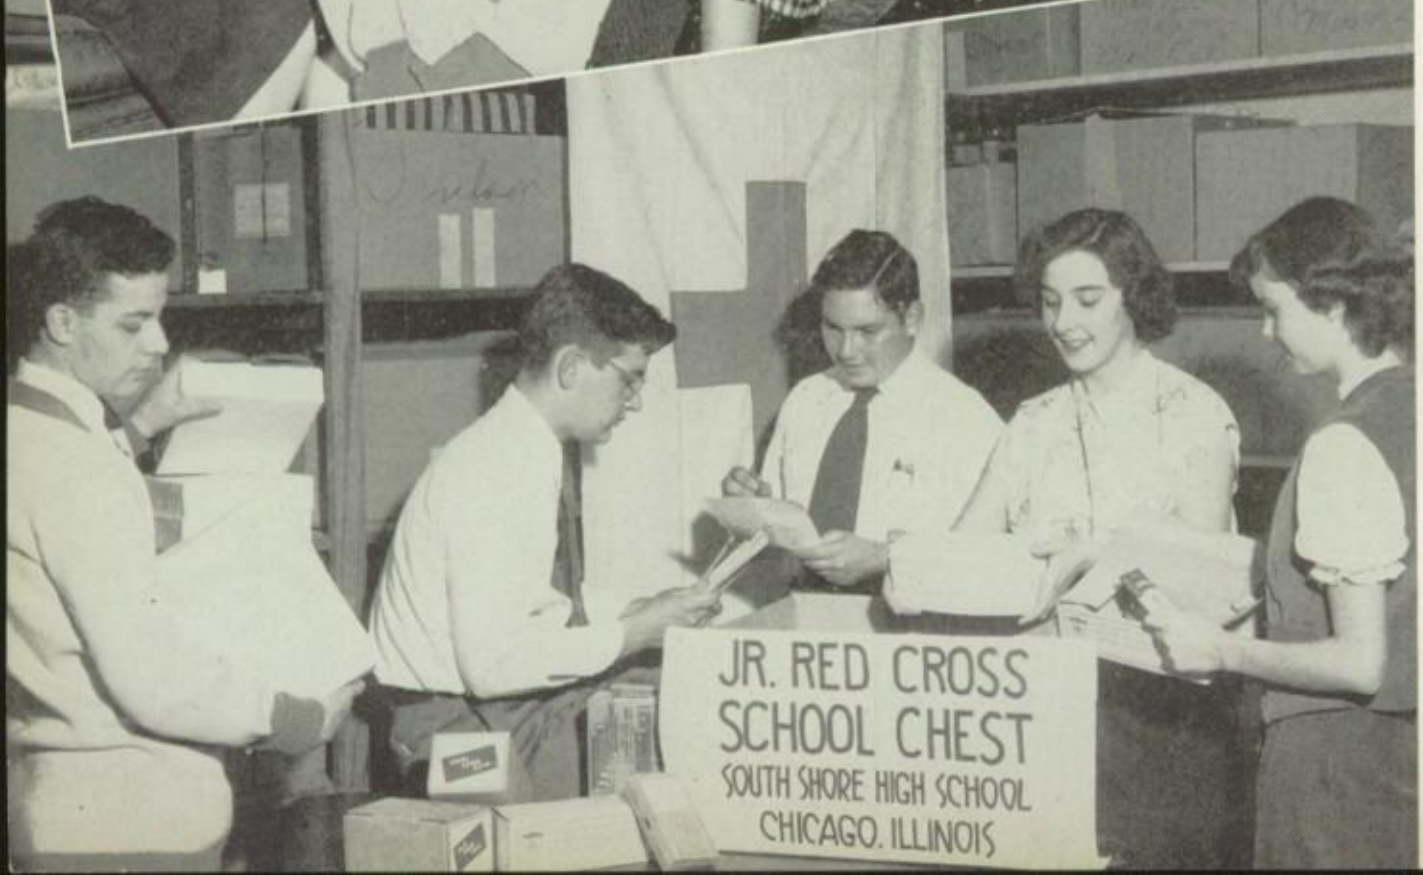
Junior Red Cross

The Junior Red Cross of South Shore is appreciated not only by students and teachers of the school, but also by those people overseas who receive this organization's generous contributions.

Two of the most important projects this year were the knitting of a huge afghan and the filling and sending of a chest, made in the school shop, to the needy school children of Europe.

Upper—Collectors and contributors to the Junior Red Cross fund are Ruth Weckinger, James Smith, Janis Kornafel, Don Gibbs, and Jacqueline Bloom.

Center—Members of the Afghan assembly line are Francene Donchin, Violet Berlin, Ruth Weckinger, and Barbara Turley.



Lower—Louis Weyn, Walter Weldele, Richard Kraus, Marilyn Kenny, and Margaret Thomson, members of the Junior Red Cross, assemble a box to be sent overseas.

Safety Club

Upper right—Safety Club members are Violet Berlin, president; Fred Good; Mr. Cervak, sponsor; Sue Glenn, secretary; Grace Berberian, vice-president; and Bob O'Connell. They are listening to the Board of Education safety program.

Center—Safety Club members listen to Mr. Cervak, sponsor, review the method of stopping severe bleeding. They are Rachel Patinkin, Gerrie Owen, Connie Owen, and Harry LePan.

Lower—Jerry Mathis, Judy Parker, Ruth Carlson, Eunice Straus, and Janet Wasson listen as Mr. Cervak explains the complex mechanism of a car.

The purpose of South Shore's Safety Club is to integrate safety programs with the general curriculum of the school. Movies concerning safety are shown to the civics, English, general science, and other classes that are interested in promoting safety.

Included in the program for this year were a meeting with Mr. Fowler, attendance at a meeting of the National Safety Council, and the presentation of various safety programs. Plans stress not only safety in driving but also safety in the home, school, and community as well.

Club functions are under the able guidance of Mr. Cervak.

Stage Crew

Upper—It's more fun than work for Ronald Dust and Ronald Christianson, working the spotlight from the projection room.

Lower left—Loading chairs is one of the "pleasant" duties of stage crew members, think David Dytkewicz, Eugene Domanski, and Dean Berry.

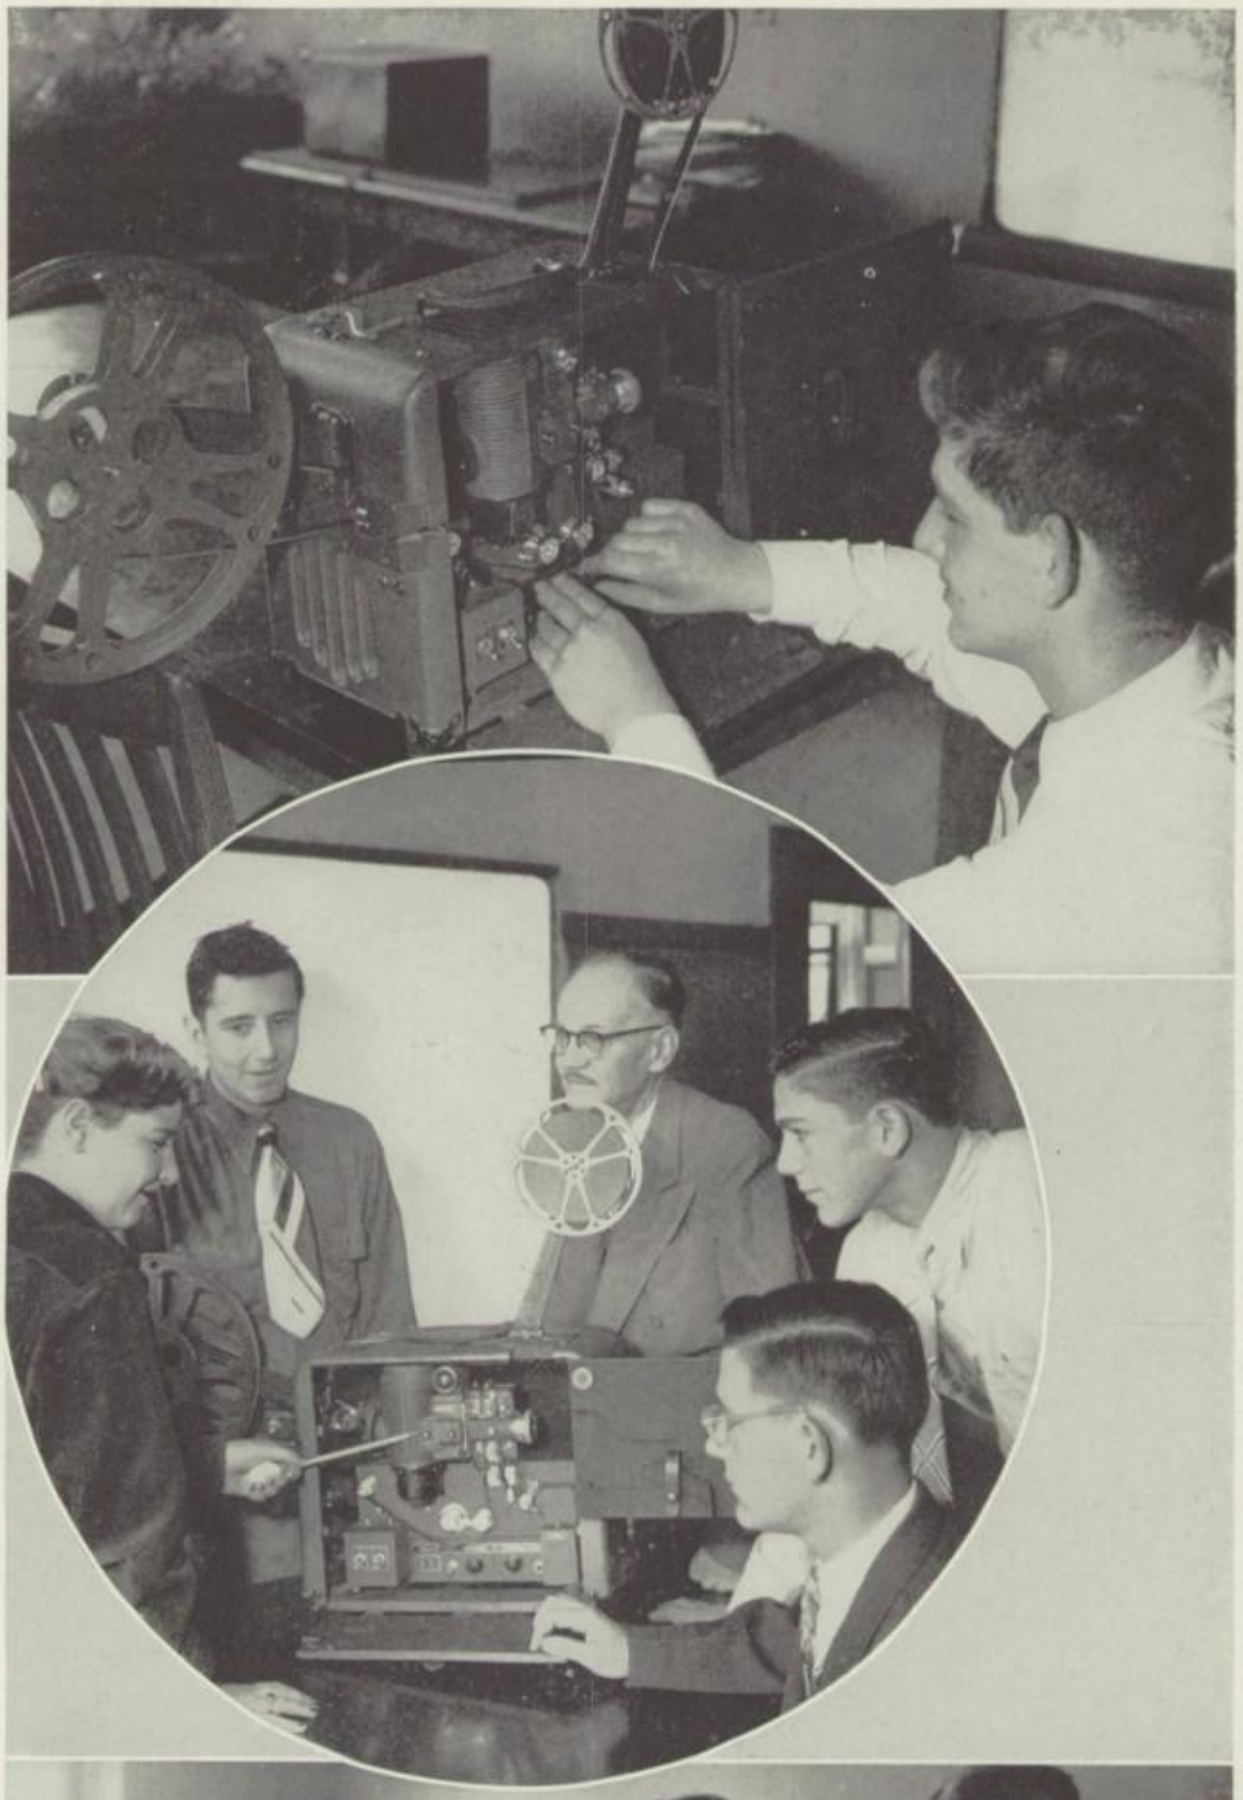
Lower right—Wally Engle, Richard Kraus, Glenn Harris, and Tom Ferry assume that familiar pose we see so often at assemblies, setting up the P.A. System.

Few realize what backaches may be developed by the Stage Crew. The success of all our assemblies and stage shows depends very largely on them.

Movie Operators

One of the busiest and most practical groups in the school is the Movie Operators. Under the supervision and guidance of Miss Brock they have become a helpful, smooth-running organization. The club, composed of both boys and girls, services the machines and shows films to any class ordering them.

Officers are Gordon Hobby, president; Dale Smith, vice-president; Wallace Engle, treasurer. Members receive service points and gain mechanical skill.



Upper—Bob Morris wonders why he hasn't three hands.

Center—Careful, Joy Lieberman, or Mr. Mongerson "will get you if you don't watch out"; so explain carefully the mechanism of that movie projector to Ronald Grossman, Sylvan Frazin, and Walter Weldele.

Lower—Donald Keith and L. J. Meyers receive their instructions for the coming day's work from Miss Brock.

Stamp Club

Upper—Officers of the Stamp Club gather at the president's table to begin their first meeting of the fall semester. They are Bill Glass, president; Larry Rosenberg, vice-president; Dick Werthamer, secretary-treasurer; Bob Vogler, sergeant-at-arms.

Lower—Henry Lowenthal, Marc Kromelow, Adrian Fox, and Jim McKernin compare stamp collections.

The Stamp Club was organized to promote philately among the students of the school. This enjoyable and educational hobby is under the able guidance of the sponsor, Miss Swanson. Activities include exhibits, lectures, trips, and auctions, which are greatly enjoyed. The close friendship of the members, which is so typical of collectors, makes this club outstanding.

Officers for the second semester include Bill Glass as president; Adrian Fox, vice-president; Marie Dahlin, secretary-treasurer; and Henry Lowenthal, sergeant-at-arms.

Office Aids

Doris Lee and Louise Elley put mail into the teachers' mail boxes.

Officers of the National Honor Society enjoy an informal hour in the Social Room. They are Charlotte Rogatz, president; Zoe Collins, secretary; Myra Gray, vice-president; Ann Brown, treasurer.

Do you ever wonder how bulletins, absence lists, and other important items get into the faculty mail boxes? Certainly pixies don't put them there. Girls who work harder than pixies, the office aids, handle these articles and help with other office duties.

National Honor Society

High ideals and lofty aims are standards maintained by members of the National Honor Society, sponsored by Miss Bock. Membership comes as a recognition of scholarship, character, leadership, and service to South Shore. Ambitious students have a challenge to become a member of this society which stresses scholarship and a well-rounded school life. Inductions are held in January and June at a candlelighting ceremony. Parents of candidates and freshmen are invited to this ceremony. Membership in this society is one of the highest honors a student can attain.

Parent Teachers' Association

Row one—Mrs. Alfred Williams, president; Mrs. Andrew Unrau, first vice-president; Mrs. Edward Rich, second vice-president.

Row two—Mrs. Herman Aufderhaar, third vice-president; Mrs. Howard Emerson, recording secretary; Mrs. John White, corresponding secretary.

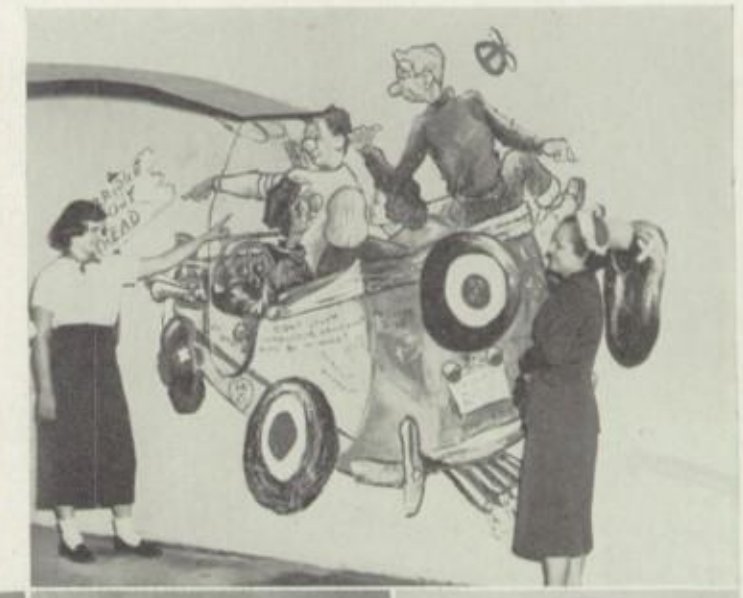
Row three—Mrs. Charles MacKim, treasurer.

A social hour, following a P.T.A. program, is an occasion for tea, talk, and friendliness.

The Parent-Teachers' Association this year has been extremely busy and productive of good results. Two events, Fathers' Night and the Spring Carnival, were especially outstanding. The first was a social, entertaining meeting for parents and teachers, with a beautiful program by the choruses, given in Brewster Hall. The other was an occasion for many money-raising projects, which were all extremely gay, enjoyable, and profitable.

From the students' viewpoint, however, the outstanding contribution of the P.T.A. this year was Davey Jones' Locker. The P.T.A. gave freely of their time and money to equip this rumpus room. They raised money also for new equipment for the school and for uniforms for the stage crew.

"The Key to Better Living"



Devonna Pieszak, one of the Rumpus Room artists, proudly points out one of the cartoons to Mr. Aufderhaar.

Row one—Mrs. Harold Crawford, delegate to the High School Council; Mrs. William Heckler, delegate to the High School Council; Mrs. Lyman Moore, alternate delegate.

Row two—Mrs. Carder Hall, chairman of Citizenship Committee; Mrs. Percy St. Pierre, historian; Mrs. D. Holmes Wilson, chairman of Hospitality Committee.

Row three—Mrs. Daniel Pachman, chairman of Legislation and Parliamentary Committee; Mrs. James Yellowlees, chairman of Publicity Committee; Mrs. Alvin Dust, semester representative.

Dr. Magan, principal, opened this year's P.T.A. program with this message:

"Together we set forth to explore the needs of youth, of family, of community. Dedicated as we are to the welfare of South Shore High School, we enjoy unity of purpose through which great accomplishment is possible. May our increased knowledge serve us well as we strive to solve the problems which we meet during the labors of this year. May our resourcefulness bring success which we can duly share with well-earned satisfaction."

We Answer the Call of Life Together

"The union of lakes, the union of lands,
The union of states, none can sever
The union of hearts, the union of hands,
And the flag of our Union forever."

HIGH

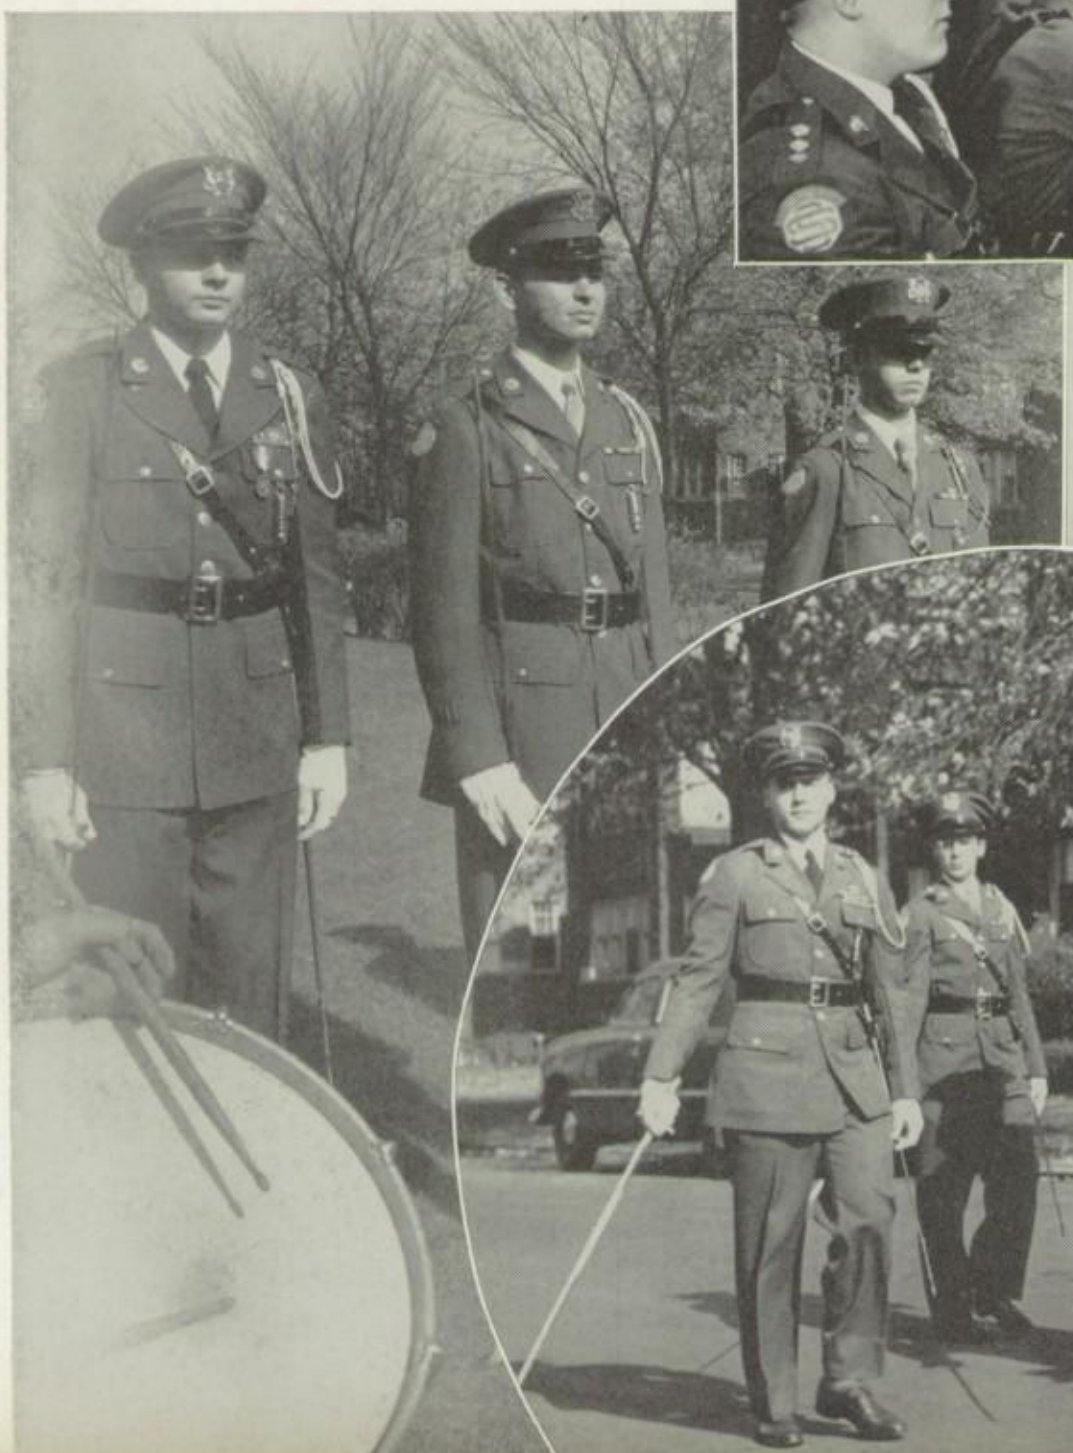
City's "Best" R.O.T.C. on Parade

Cadet officers of the South Shore detachment turn eyes toward more honors for their distinguished unit. The battalion was selected as the best unit in the city in the 1950 Federal Inspection. This unit was also high in Picked Platoon and Rifle Team competition. Carrying on the tradition of members' being appointed to the City Staff is Bill Olsen, chosen to be a Master Sergeant on the staff. The fame of the detachment has spread throughout the city and the Mid-West area, and as a result has brought honor and admiration to its school.

Upper—Cadet officers, Capt. David Dytkiewicz, Lt. Don Law, Capt. Gordon Hobby, Capt. Dean Berry, Capt. Otto Keller, and 1st Lt. Charles Bournstein study the nomenclature of the carbine.

Lower left—Capt. Dale Smith, 1st Lt. Irwin Chaiken, and 2nd Lt. Jack Linton, band officers, stand at attention as the National Colors pass.

Lower right—Staff officers present sabers as they pass the reviewing stand. They are Capt. Jerry Farber, 1st Lt. Elton Cairns, Maj. James Pacini, Capt. Jim Rawleigh, and Maj. Ronald Christianson, Commanding Officer.



Everything Isn't Drill

Many varied activities maintain members' interest. The rifle team always places high in the city ranks, and for the past two years has competed in national invitational matches at Booneville, Missouri. The Exhibition squad entertains at many events with its tricky manual of arms. The Color guard posts colors at most assemblies and represents the school at numerous civic functions.

After the annual Federal inspection, cadets form baseball teams and play for the rest of the semester during their class periods. The detachment participates in many parades throughout the year, including those on Memorial Day, Armistice Day, Cadet Day, and the Armed Forces Day.

Upper—The Color Guard displays the flags won as a result of South Shore's being judged the best unit in the city. They are M/Sgt. Gilbert Pearson, M/Sgt. Victor Levadi, Sgt. 1/cl. Tom Witzman, Sgt. Ray Overholt.

Center—A squad of the Picked Platoon, Bill Olson, Bob Crowley, Frank Wong, James Letsos, Terry Wilson, John Tontsch, Claude Netherton, and Don Keith, receive instructions from leader Maj. James Pacini.

Lower—Sgt. Dale Pearman, Capt. Dale Smith, Capt. Gordon Hobby, Lt. Donald Yovich, Lt. Steve Zachary, and Cdt. Charles Player, Rifle team members, prepare to fire.

Soldiers in Our Midst

Upper—The Exhibition squad executes the difficult Queen Ann salute. They include Capt. Gordon Hobby, Lt. Don Yovich, M/Sgt. William Olson, M/Sgt. Victor Levadi, Lt. Elton Cairns.

Center—Sgt. Louis Keith, Sgt. 1/cl. Glenn Harris, Sgt. 1/cl. Tom Ferry, Sgt. Alvin Nemeroff, Sgt.1/cl. Stanley Nasarzewski, Sgt. Henry Karel, Sgt. 1/cl. Wallace Engle, and Cdt. Joseph Gray execute "Dress Right" at the command of "B" Company leader, Capt. Otto Keller.

Lower—Cdt. Capt. Gordon Hobby demonstrates the position of "Parade Rest" to squad members, Sgt. Dale Pearman, Sgt. Robert Crowley, Lt. Howard Schor, M/Sgt. Ronald Ringenberg, Sgt. Charles Shannon, and Cdt. Tom McMahon.

Cheer Leaders in Action

Mrs. Lassen is the sponsor who trains these girls in their vigorous and enthusiastic leadership of our fans. At all games and pep assemblies their picturesque costumes and rhythmical antics add to the zest of life at South Shore.

Upper—"One . . . two . . . three!" shout Carolyn Jessop, Virginia Shipley, Ethel Avgerinos, Rosemary Horwitz, and Janet Harper, beginning a favorite yell.

Center—"B - E - A - T, beat Hyde Park!" continue Betty Boyd, Gerrie Malloy, Ethel Avgerinos, and Lorna Schafer.
Lower—"Yea, South Shore!" Barbara Cassel, Eleanor Brown, Leah Embree, and Joan Grabill complete the yell.

Row two—Art Villasenor, Ted Spieler, Bernard Schencker, Chuck Fish, Bill Smith, Ronald Nylen, Bill Joor, Larry Jegen, Leslie Johnson, Jerry Senters, Allen Gomoll, Harry Casler, Coach Maurice Williams.

Varsity Football

If spirit and determination alone could win football games, the plucky Tars would be city champions. Being one of the smallest schools in the league, the Tars usually lack depth in personnel.

This year, as last, the squad started the season as an inexperienced, unorganized unit. However, Coach Williams worked hard, and the boys, eager to learn, responded quickly. The team seemed to improve with every game. The boys fought stubbornly for every yard, and even in the face of certain defeat they never gave up. After each setback, even though heartbroken and full of despair, they never lost their spirit or fortitude.

Because of this "never give up" attitude, they bounced up and licked a spirited Harper eleven. This gave them just the confidence that was needed. The next week the courageous Tars tore into "our rivals to the North," Hyde Park, and soundly drubbed them 14 - 0. This victory entitled South Shore to the wagon wheel, thus enabling the team to finish a seemingly mediocre season in a blaze of glory and success.

The lessons learned on the gridiron will long be remembered by the players. More important than victories are the ideals of sportsmanship and friendly competition which football puts into practice. Win or lose, football is a great game.

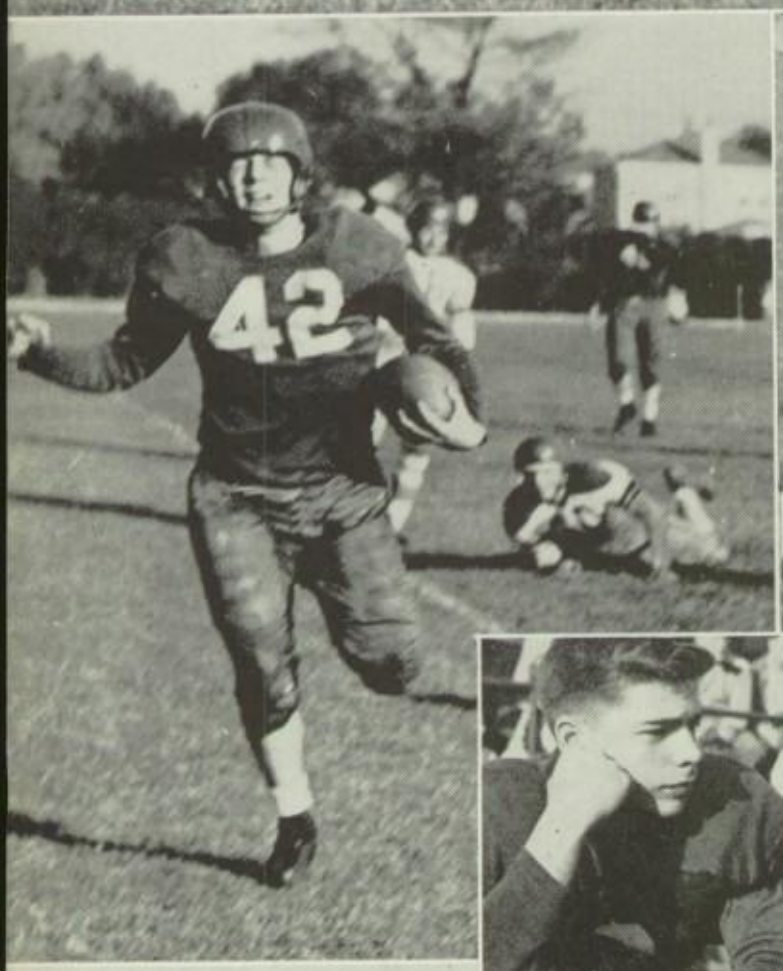
Fight, Boys, Fight!

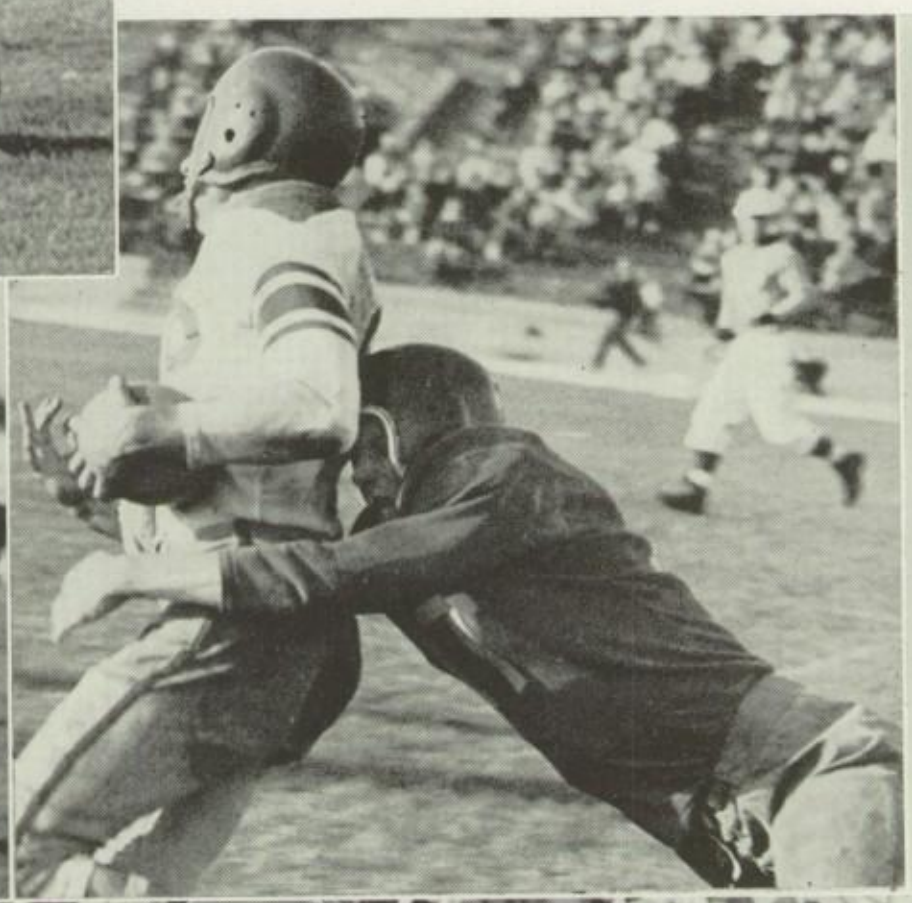
Upper—The Tars' vicious tackling results in a Harper fumble.

Center left—Although obviously "blind to the world," Al Gomoll rips off a sizeable gain.

Center right—Here's one that didn't get away.

Lower—There is no over-confidence here. In the foreground are Bill Joor, Ronald Nylen, Ted Spieler, Richard Krause, Pete Stoneham.





This year's team was led and inspired by Captain Bill Smith. His eagerness and spirited drive made him one of the best centers in the league. His shoes will certainly be hard to fill.

Next year's squad, however, will have the experience that this year's lacked. They will know how it is to lose and they will know how wonderful it feels to win. Centered around a nucleus of three year letter men, the 1951 Tars should prove hard to beat.

Frosh-Soph Football

THE FROSH-SOPH TEAM

Row two—Bob Spaulding, Jack Campbell, Tom Rybarski, Herman Kleiman, Tom Stepanic, Mike McCormick, Bill Galvin, Gene Harris, Larry Sager, Richard Linkemer.

Although little known and publicized, the Tar Freshmen-ophomore football team has proved to be a very important cog in the South Shore athletic machine.

It serves as a conveyor belt for the varsity team. Young, eager freshmen and sophomores are given a chance to learn and practice the fundamentals of football. They work hard and compete against freshmen teams from other schools. In this way they gain experience, strength, and athletic prowess. They also develop a sense of sportsmanship and a love for friendly competition. When they do go out for the varsity team, they have the confidence and experience of a year's training and competition. This makes strong teams and reduces the number injuries.

This year's team played five games, winning two, tying one, and losing two. Under Coach Robert Cervak's guidance many fine Varsity prospects have been developed. Herman Kleiman, Jim Duble, Bob O'Connell, and Chuck Bernstene head the list of the year's frosh group. They should prove to be capable additions to the '51 Varsity Tars.

Tall, Terrific Tars

Row two—Allen Ryan, Robert Echt, Robert Sieloff, Jack Henderson, Bernard Schencker.

Row three—Mgr. Chuck Bernstene, Dan Payne, Herbert Kahn, Quentin Ruchte, Hugh Rayburn, Allen Gomoll, Mgr. Victor Anderson, Coach Clarence Applegran.

Lower—Coach Applegran's annecdote seems to tickle Capt. Lee O'Connell and Lou Sandefur.

The 1950-1951 South Shore senior basketball team won't be considered the school's greatest team because this laurel wreath is bestowed on the basis of such eye-catching determinants as won-lost records and city championship rankings. However, South Shore was voted Chicago's Number One prep team in the Prep Writers' Association weekly polls during the first semester.

Moreover, the Tars never before were so successful in down-state competition. After losses to Freeport, the state champions, and Abingdon, South Shore defeated six highly touted out-of-town quintets. As winners of the Kankakee Christmas tournament, the Tars clearly demonstrated that they could hold their own in any prep competition.

Captain Lee O'Connell, Lou Sandefur, Ken Blizzard, and Jack Rouse were named on various honorary prep all-star teams.

Row three—Henry Taylor, Tom Neary, Bob O'Connell, Ed Bood, Larry Cohen, Ed Sheridan.

Tar Juniors suffered from severe injuries at the opening of the season when such stars as Captain Rusty Forrest and Sherwin Strauss were lost because of ankle injuries. The team dropped its first three games but then gathered momentum and won six of seven games to tie for second place in the South Section. There is no question but what they had developed into the most potent junior team in Chicago when the season ended.

In the drawing for the playoffs for the City Championship, however, they were unlucky and did not have the opportunity to demonstrate their real class. Rusty Forrest, pot shot artist; Sherwin Strauss, dribbler deluxe; and Sumpad Kanlian, clever pivot man, were names on honorary teams. Bob Ryan, hookshot topper, led the team in scoring until his graduation in January.

Coach Clarence Applegran deserves special credit for the fine job that he has done with both Juniors and Seniors.

Triumphant Swim Team

Upper—Senior Swimming Team.

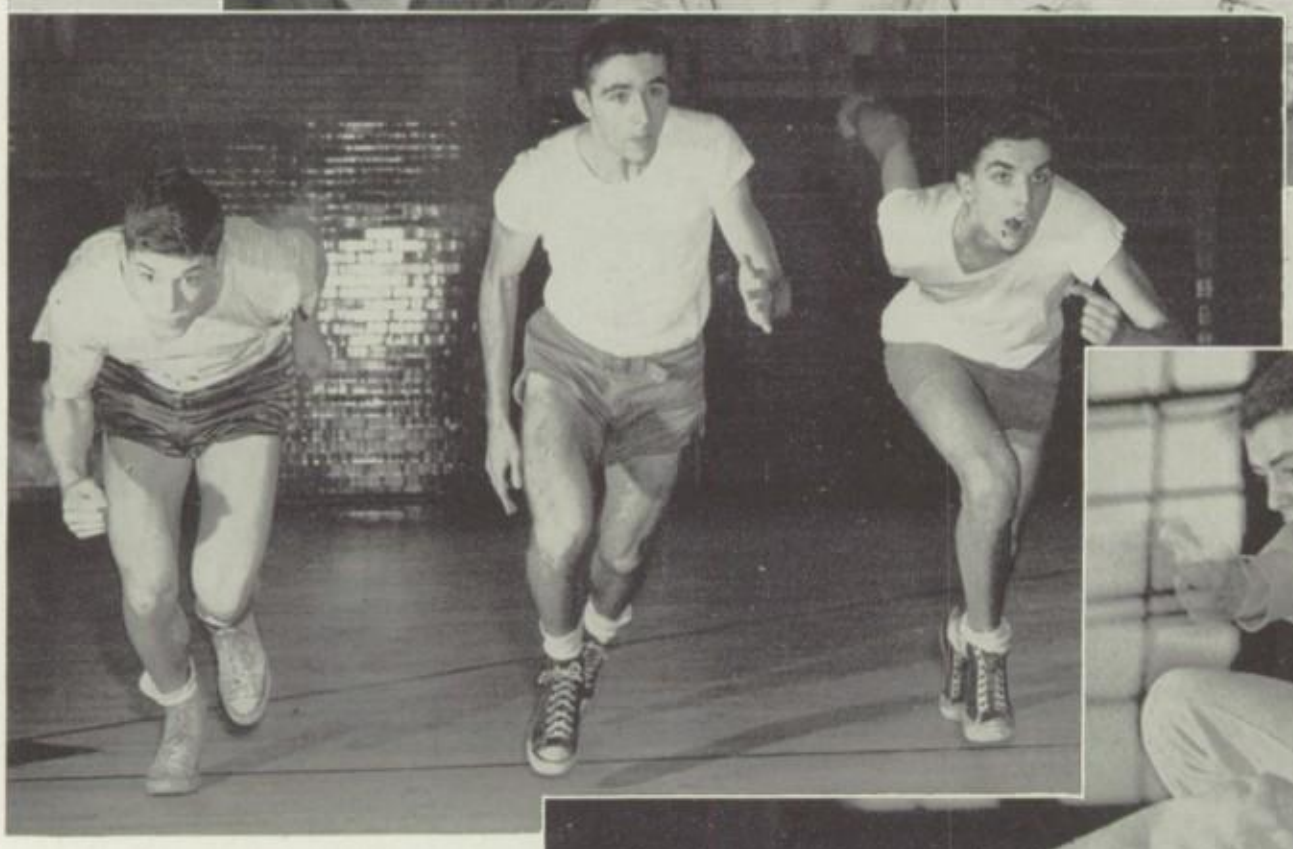
Row one—David Brown, David Kosvick, Roger Diehl, Lou Weyn, Walter Roney, Ralph Weaver, Bob Spaulding.

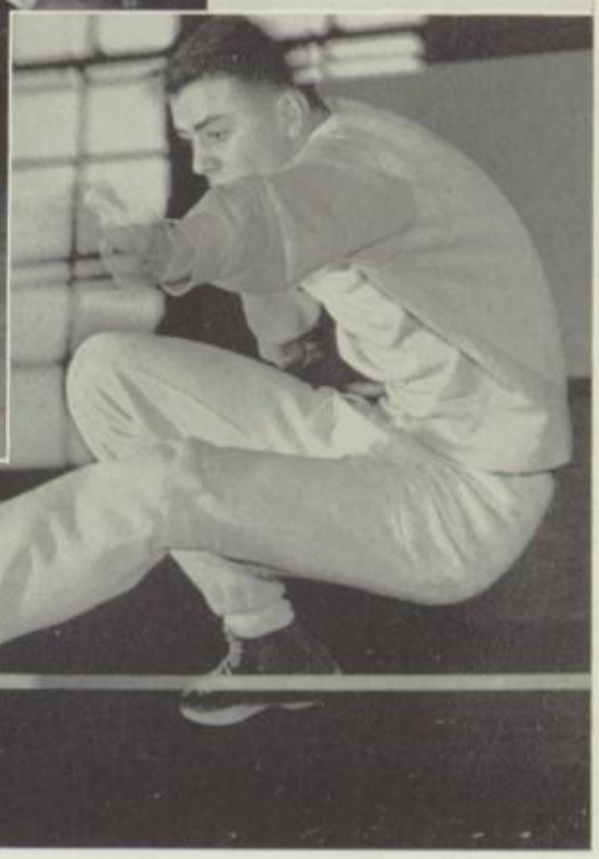
Row two—Charles Last, Coach Williams, Martin Ernsteen, Gene Embree, Richard Lukin, Bill Hackel, Dan Bush, Chuck Grunharnd, Pete Stoneham, Dick White.

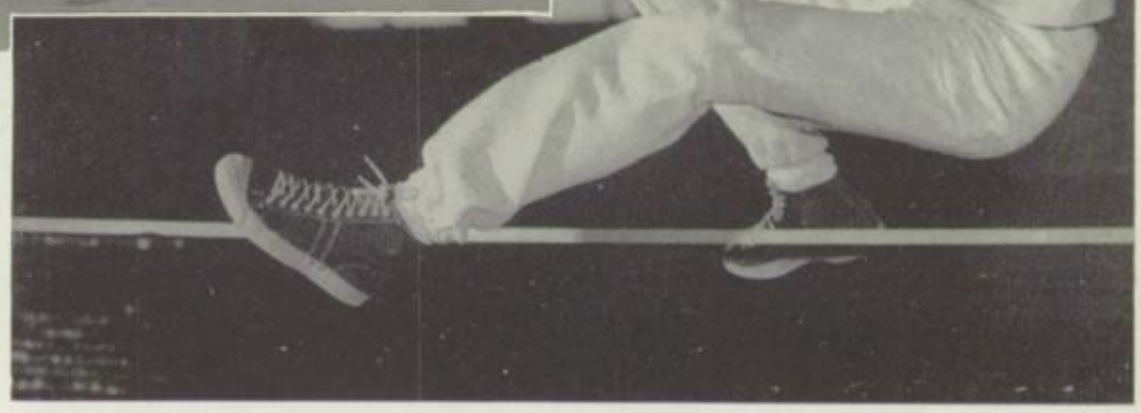
Lower—They're off! Gene Embree and Pete Stoneham heed Coach William's signal.

South Shore's swimming team, headed by Coach Williams, lived up to all expectations by finishing the most victorious season in Tar swim history. The Seniors took second place in the South Section meets and walked off with high honors in the City Meet. The Guppies captured an undisputed first place in the Section and finished second only to a powerful Lane team in the City Finals.

South Shore Track Team







Upper—Members of the Track Team.

Row one—Larry Sager, Bob Stuart, Victor Levadi, Bob Echt.

Row two—John Summerfield, Capt. Jerry Druth, Sherwin Strauss.

Row three—John Klawans, Bob Lissit, Gene Harris.

Center—Sherwin Strauss, Jerry Druth, and Vic Levadi show their good form in starting the 100 yard dash.

Lower—Bob Stuart clears the bar.

Tar cindermen, aided immensely by Captain Jerry Druth, finished a successful season and created for the sport an interest hitherto unknown at South Shore. Most of the letter men will return next year, assisted by many newcomers. Mr. Williams will act as track coach, and his know-how is expected to help the team a great deal.

Baseball and Bowling Teams

South Shore's bowling league provides both sport and recreation for the many boys who participate. Mr. Wiltshire is the coach.

When Coach Cervak took over the baseball team last season, he found it to be a disorganized squad consisting mainly of newcomers. Under his supervision, however, the team gained valuable experience, and with such returning letter men as Capt. Rusty Forrest, Dale Jones, Al Goss, Ralph Heitz, Ken Blizzard, and Burt Kushner, South Shore can expect a first-class, hustling ball club this year.

Lower left—Well-fitted uniforms mean fewer errors and more hits, agree Dale Jones, Gene Natzke, and Ralph Heitz.

Lower right—Capt. Rusty Forrest and Coach Robert Cervak contend that a bunt is as good as a hit.

Girls' Athletic Association

Upper—G.A.A. Board members assemble with the fall semester officers. Seated are Dorothy Katz, secretary; Grace Berberian; Ann Brown. On the desk is Lenore Merbitz, president. Standing are Elsie Arnold; Sue Glenn; Devonna Pieszak, vice-president; Cynthia Frye; Mary Connors.

Lower—G.A.A. Board meets with the spring officers. In row one are Miss Marston, sponsor; Betty Beneker, treasurer. In row two are Janet Harper, president; Betty Schultz, vice-president; Shirley Johnson; Bea Piotrowski; Barbara Cassel; and Jackie Buchsbaum, secretary.

One of the most popular organizations at South Shore is the Girls' Athletic Association, which boasts a 100% membership. It contributes greatly to a strong school spirit, and its aims are good sportsmanship and physical development. Board members are chosen by officers from a group of letter girls.

Activities which G.A.A. members participate in are varied. Parties, square dancing, bowling, and horseback riding are a few of the enjoyable pastimes. There are also swim meets, the student-faculty game, and the intramural sports.

G.A.A. Girls Dance and Play

Upper—G.A.A. girls and their partners engage in a typical western square dance. Left to right: Violet Berlin, Jackie Buchsbaum, Richard Lukin, Shirley Johnson, and Quentin Ruchte.

Center—Betty Evans and Pamela Porter seem to agree that things are pretty bad.

Lower—Officers of the G.A.A. have a pleasant session outside the gym door. Left to right are Lenore Merbitz, president; Jackie Buchsbaum, treasurer; Donna Pieszak, vice-president; Dorothy Katz, secretary.

One of the main events of the year is the award assembly. At this time girls who have earned a 250 point emblem, a 500 point pin, a letter, or any one of the four chevrons receive the awards for their achievements. In this manner the G.A.A. not only encourages participation in school work and sports, but also helps members to improve themselves by taking posture tests and keeping health charts.

The G.A.A. also sponsors a membership party which all girls eagerly await. The only requirement for entrance to the party is a G.A.A. membership card, which also serves as a pass to many other activities.

Miss Magan is enthusiastic about this group. She has plans to have experts talk, in assemblies, about whatever fields the girls choose. The G.A.A. thus is a truly worthwhile organization.

Girls' Swim Club

If you were to pass by the natatorium any Tuesday afternoon during the tenth period, you could watch the Girls' Swim Club in action. Members swim with the precision of a professionally trained group. They practice synchronized swimming, fancy diving, and underwater stunts.

At the Spring Carnival the club put on a water show which more than five hundred people saw. One of the outstanding displays was a water ballet to music, given by four girls.

The club is under the able direction of Mrs. Isabel Lassen. Officers are Sue Hatfield, president; Lynn Wilson, vice-president; Betty Boyd, secretary; and Janet Harper, treasurer.

Upper left—The six moist mermaids pictured here turn out to be members of the G.A.A. Swim Club: Ann Gothwaite (in the water), Janet Harper, Shirley Green, Ann Brown, Janice Feldkamp, and Muriel Fine.

LET UNITY RISE

Through blinding tears of eras gone
And prayers for the future wherein lies hope,
Through mem'ries of ages past and dimmed
And everyday troubles with which we cope,
We've learned that unity means success,
Yet we're apart with egos high;
We do for ourselves what we think best
With selfish hearts until we die.

The world has lost its glorious design;
'Tis but a mass of dirt and sod;
The human throng has lost its will
To build, to live, to worship God,
And threatened by the settling mist
That's hovering o'er our troubled land,
We live, we drift, we are apart,
Results of union's broken strand.

Yes, all seems lost - - - yet all is not!
We are a race 'till the last bomb falls!
We are a people 'till all life ends;
But we're not ONE . . . our greed appals!
'Tis not too late for reformation
To end this wearied, selfish strain;
Let us recall that when we're ONE
That golden hue unites the chain.

Our world will rise from amidst the ashes;
Our temples will resound in prayer;
Our deeds will be harmonious;
Our standards will be true and fair;
Throughout our many weary toils,
The Heavens will acclaim our cries;
Concord on Earth will be attained!
This is our world . . . LET UNITY RISE!
